

NORTHAMPTON v. LUTON.

This match took place at Northampton on Easter Monday. There was a large crowd present to watch the game, a goodly number of spectators making the trip from Luton. A fast and exciting match was seen as the result of some good play by both sides. Luton had the advantage of the wind in the first half and several chances were missed. Up to half-time nothing was scored. On crossing over the home team had more of the game which was therefore fairly even. The match eventually ended in a draw with no score:—

NORTHAMPTON 0 ; LUTON 0.
