

A Newport reporter told me that at home the visitors are called the Ironsides.

and certainly Cooper's legs suggest the appropriateness of the title.

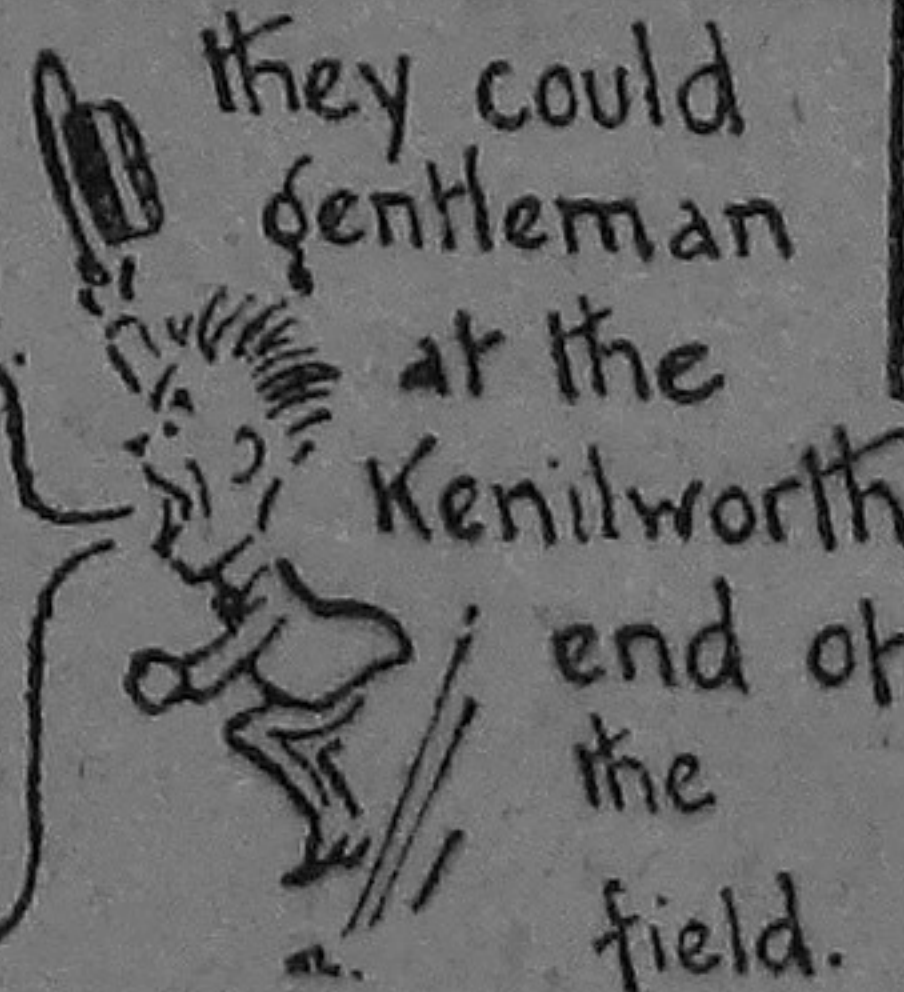

Higgie won his little game of "solitaire."

After which Luton needed all the encouragement they could get from a

"Play up my bonny boys!"

at the Kenilworth Rd. end of the field.

before Mathieson discovered a vulnerable place in Newport's armour.

Simms immediately widened the gap.

and "ditto" immediately sent through another.

H=112/.

at such short range that the goalkeeper got a wonderful "close up" of Alan's boot.