ENHUSIASM has seldom been so high atnessed the first game while there were other sports still holding the field. It was very disappointing, therefore, that Luton Town did not manage to take both points from their match with Southend United. It has to be admitted that the visitors were had the better of the general play in the first hal
the visitors played at well for a long period
in the second that they deserved their lead.

X. Second by JOHNSON with

THIS was a goal scored by JOHNSON with a header, after very clever play on the right wing by Oswald, Jones and Williams, Several times they were within an acc of increasing the lead, but failed to do sond eventually the Town improved to to a shot by SAM BELL, after In the last minute the Town inspired the total shot by SAM BELL, after In the last minute the Town inspired the the town from the shot by SAM Bell, after In the last minute the Town regardless of the shot by SAM Bell, after In the last minute the Town regardless of the foot of the upright, and the ball twisted round the fallen goalkeeper, and came out again, close to the farther post.

A PPEALS for a goal were not made until everybody took it for granted that the ball was over the line. The players were containing the scorer, and Southend players were looking very glum, until the referee shook his head, and there was then no time to take advantage of the Southend Players.

The guideness of the Southend players.

THE TOWN attack never settled down. In accling, as well as in their movements to attack, made the home side appear slow by the third there was superior combination by the Town. The only pull, and it was very slight, that the Town had, was in the support given by the middle line to the forwards, and wilson played the third back and the town the third back and the third back and I SHOULD not be far wrong in saying that Wilson was chiefly responsible for the United winning a point, for he did grawork in the goal area, and Tom Bell did not seem to know a way to get round him. It third back game does not make for attractive football, when played as by Wilson, it is a very powerful defensive factor.

Wilson, it is a very powerful defensive factor.

A PART from the Town forwards appearing to be slower than the visiting defenders, there was a lack of fail defenders, there was fortunate to get the score down to the solitary point by Sam Bell.

In addition to Kean, Fraser and Reecc, splendid work was performed in defence of the score down to the score down to the score down to the score down to the solitary point by Sam Bell.

AT CARDIFF
GERAT improvement was seen in the team
Work of the Town at Minian Park on Monday night, and they were most unfortunate to lose. It was a long time, however, before they showed real superiority, for the City adopted methods that, to say the least, were hardly what one from League football. It was not merely that their backs and halves were disposed to play roughly, but that there was little attempt at combination.

FOR the whole of the game the backs and halves never attempted to give their forwards any assistance. It was simply kitch and the forwards any assistance, it was simply kitch and the forwards were expected to race for it and challenge the opposing detenders. They did this whole-heartedly, too, and now and then Keating managed to get his line going nicely. As the ball usually came high, one or two players would jump for it, and the number of times three or four players fell ha a heap was exaordinary.

MOST of the work that Preedy had came from shots from near the half-way line or the vicinity of the touch-line. On the other hand, the Town forwards were playing rather close, and the lusty defenders bundled into them without ceremony, and often very dangerously, and too frequently players were bunged to the turf ha manyle party was knocked unconscious when cutting in for goal, and it was during his absence that the City scored the goal that won the match. There was a futter up the middle, and both McGinnigle and Reece failed to capture the ball as Keating went for it; the centre-forward sent it out to the right wing where GRIFFITHS raced in and beat Preedy with a hard ground shot right away from him.

WHEN Russell resumed the Town forwards did much more attacking, and they settled much something like a feeling they are the saves and once he dived at full-length and managed to hold a terrific shot from Russell that seemed bound to score. Over and over again Farquharson saved his side, but always there seemed to be direct menace in the swift rushes and bustling tactics of the home forwards.

In the second half the City were on the defensive almost throughout, and Farquharson saved his charge again and again. The City defenders became rattles; we defended the swift rushes and bustling that the city defenders became rattles; we will be succeeded to the swift of the control of

THEN came the incident when Tom Bell him, and the referee simply gave a free kick some yards INSIDE the penalty area. The City played wildly, and there was a lot of roughness for some of the Town began to retailate in kind. There was one big piece of lucifor the Town when, in a flectic onslaugh by the City, Preedy saved but could not expensively the ball away, and Kean dashed in and kicked clear. The Town, however, were soon at it again, and Everegot the ball away from his goal-line when rarquharson was beaten, and Bassett robbed Russell just in time when he was through.

TOM BELL skinnmed the bar, Farquharson tipped over a shot from Russell, and then saved finely from Sam Bell, and the latter only just pales with a splendid cross shot, while Stophenson headed inches over. Russell race dean through the defence and beat Farquarson all the way, but the ball scraper at the farther upright, and just after his the Town left winger repeated oily get over the half-way line, but the goal would not come. Stephenson had a fine thance as he beat the backs, but by some freak of positioning, Jackson was in defence and he brought Stephenson down vy badly. When play was resumed, Russell was again inches wide with a flying shot, and to the end the City packed their goal, with success.

THE whole of the Town team played splendidly, though Mackey did not touch his best until the interval, when he was a real force, and the City left wing hed a poor time. The most hopeful reature, however, was the good work in the attack. The passing was delightful, and the spectators cheered frantically as their goal escaped time and again. What was required, however, was a good marksman, who could show on the run, and until the deficiency is remedied the Town will not reap the benefit of their cleverness in the open.
