

Brown "Stop me and buy one—if you can," thinks Coen as he runs the Run gauntlet. And he got away with it.

HOW READING TRIUMPHED OVER LUTON

Sunday Express

DECEMBER 2, 1934

No, not a fandango, merely a Luton man telling a Reading player where to get off.

High-steppers, this pair, but the Luton man got there first.

Tait bends the knee to Luton's goalkeeper, but nothing doing. Coen cuts out the "knightly" stuff—by getting the ball.
