TOWN MAY HAVE CHANGES THERE

Just as one swallow does not make a summer, neither does one victory relieve the anxiety felt about the Town's League position, but, at least, it will help to give the team confidence for the trying period which they face. They will need all the confidence they can muster when

The Town will not be overawed by the quality of the opposition, and they can take encourage ACCORDINGLY, Charlie Watment from the fact that they have never failed to give a good account of themselves at White Hart-lane. Two years ago. too. when the hand of the relegation bogey was beginning to point to alternatives for the wing half posithem, they picked up two precious tions. points by scoring the only goal at White Hart-lane.

Wing-Half Changes Are Possible

WHILE it was not expected that there would be material changes in the team that beat Bury, there may be alterations, voluntary or involuntary,

Here, at the moment, the position is more than a little obscure and four players have been named for the two positions.

In the first place, Bob Morton has strained his back muscles, and has spent this week having attention from the trainer. He did not play in the practice match on Tuesday morning, and neither did Doug Gardiner, who was nursing an ankle injury again.

Morton And Gardiner Have Injuries

YESTERDAY there was considerable doubt about whether Morton would be fit enough to play on Saturday, if required, and Dally Duncan told me, "He has got to be 100 per cent fit to play in a match like this, and would not take any risks if Similarly with Gardiner, for whom a rest may be contemplated. as he has been worried by ankle trouble quite a lot at different periods this season, was really up to the mark last tion of the team will probably be

Saturday, and with doubts about I delayed until be arrives.

Apart from the doubts about wing-half positions, here will be no other changes, except that the full-backs will be switched over. This was done originally for the match at Preston, so that Billy Cooke could mark Tom Finney.

Billy Cooke Is To Oppose Medley So well did the arrangement work, that the formation has been retained ever since, and neither Cooke nor Aherne is worried by a change of flank. In fact, Aherne was at left back in Ireland's team against Wales yesterday. Motive behind the move, of course, is to pit Cooke against Medley, the 'Spurs outside left, who is regarded as the winger liable to cause the more Cooke is the stronger tackler of the two full-backs, and the manager is betting on his success in the past in keeping a tight hold on top-class wingers.

Forward Line Will Be Unchanged

plished inside-forward.

Three Have Avoided Defeat There

OF the 31 League matches they have played this season, Tottenham have lost only three, and, strangely enough, two of their defeats have been at White Hart-lane, where teams in the lower half of the table, Black-burn Rovers and Leicester City, took full points.

Brentford gamed a point there, and these performances will give the Town grounds for hope. One thing that is certain is that the crowd will be bigger than any that has watched Luton previously this season, for in their last five home matches Spurs have averaged over 60,000.

Doubts About The Reserve Team, Too MEANWHILE, with the uncertainty existing about the first team line-up, and doubts about the fitness of three other players, Waugh, Wilson and Taylor, selection of the Reserves team to entertain Leicester City in the Combination Cup has been put off until to-morrow. Waugh injured an ankle at Coventry last Thursday when the Town were beaten 5—1, and will have to have a test before a decision can be made. Taylor, too, is suffering from ankle trouble, and had an X-ray examination earlier this week. However, it is thought that he will be available.

Billy Arnison Making

Good Progress WILSON, too, who has had a spell on the inactive list because of a knee injury is likely to resume, and he was able to play in Tuesday's practice match.

If all three are fit the Town should be able to put a strong team into the field.

News of Billy Arnison is good.

and he is expected to begin full training on Monday. If he continues to maintain his recent good progress there is quite a prospect of him being able to resume by Easter, which might possibly be a very vital period in the history of the Town club.

After enjoying 70 per cent of the play the Amateur changed over at half-time two goals down in their Spartan League end of the table where rarily bad luck and partly bad finishing prevented the Luton team from taking an early lead, for & Smith and Owens both went close. Then, ten minutes from the-merchant whom another former Town player, Pullarton, scored three in interval Amersham went ahead through ROSSER, who scored their 5—1 win over the strong after good work by Herman. A Glendale team. minute later the Amateur had another shock when HEARNE lobbed the ball over O'Neill's head following a brilliant solo run.

After the interval, the home side again had plenty of the play, but for the most part they were unable to penetrate a solid defence. RUSSELL did reduce their Glerdale team.

Their neurest rivals, Napier Sports, nearly slipped up against Kent's, for it was not until the closing minutes that they made certain of two precious points by snatching the winning goal.

Craig Athletic kept on the fringe of the struggle by their nig win at Cockernhoe, where Bradley and Copley between them were responsible for eight of their nine goals arrears, but apart from that goal they rarely looked like scoring.
