Davie's Late was almost their only serious raid of the first half. GRAHAM was the scorer when he hooked a pass from Wharton past Streten from close range to give Rovers a surprise lead. South Midlands lucas. In his place at right-half, the Welsh club experimented with former Aston Villa centre-forward, Howarth, but this was a dismal failure, due mainly to the work of Davie. The Scot was again in grand form and most danger came from this quarter. HAVENGA gave the Town the lead in four minutes, when he collected a loose ball inside the penalty area and unleashed a low shot that sped out of Parry's reach. A Point As the second-half wore on. Blackburn were forced back completely on to the defensive. with even Owen soing up to help drive home the attack. However despite the pressure, it looked as if Rovers would survive until Stobbart veered out to the right wing and made a perfect centre. Right on the spot was DAVIE and he carefully steered the ball wide of Patterson with his head to score a very neat goal and to Lucus. Havenga's Shots Tipped League Luton Town 1. Blackburn R. 1 Waterlow's A roal scored by Davie, his first since loining the club, six minutes from the end of this match at Kenilworth-road on Saturday, saved the Town a point just when the Rovers appeared set for a lucky victory. The Scales Luton's Way In addition, some doubt remains about when Billy Cooke will be able to turn out again. His wrist is in plaster, but bearing ir mind the fact that Jackie Milburn, of Newcastle United and Maurice Tadman, of Plymouth Arayle both played in Unlucky 13 Luton Town 3, Swansen Town 1 Before the Town finally made certain of the points at Kenti-worth-road on Tuesday, they had some distinctly uneasy moments. Most of these came in the first half, when Swansen had a great deal of the play and more scoring chances than did the Town. When, with the game only 10 minutes old, Owen was carried off after receiving a kick under the knee, the Town's hopes dropped, but they weathered the storm until Owen returned after 10 minutes absence. The injury proved to be a kick on a nerve and he recovered so completely that he was able to take over again at centre-half, much to the Town's relief. DEFENCE WAS SOUND On a bone-hard ground which to score a very near goal and to cause cheering and sighs of relief was most treacherous in places, the Town played the better football and always looked more like the top of the table team than did Blackburn. Most of these came in the first half, when Swansea had a great deal of the play and more scoring chances than did the Town. Yet it was Luton who held the lead at the intervel, through a goal scored by HAVENGA after 15 minutes. Davie made an excellent impression both by his cleverness and by the speed he showed in going through with the ball. He has brought added craft and punch to the line which, in this match, again showed a tendency to fail to round off If the e is a possible chance of doing so, then Cooke will be ready and, in fact, he was going to play at Swansea until Sunday morning when he nad to return to hospital for a further examination. Cranfield, in turn, were beaten on Boxing Day by Harrold United, who now take over the leadership, though Waterlow's are still well placed. Owing to the unfitness of the Cranfield, in turn, were beater Operating on the better going at the Kenilworth-road end in the first-half, the Town forwards looked a live, notent force, but they just could not get the goals which their approach work OWEN HELD RICHARDS Owen was worried by the dash of Richards at the start, but had much the better of the battle long before the end and the defence looked far more certain in the second half. Morton again achieved a fair measure of success against Allchurch and Watkins played splendidly throughout and gave fine support to the men in front. Leading up to this was a run and centre by Glover which threw the visitors' defence into confusion and a couple of shots were beaten out before Havenga saw his chance and rammed the ball into the net. Had Swansea been ahead at the end of the first half, the Town could scarcely have quibbled, for There were few chances for Stobbart, who was most dangerous when he moved out to the wings, a move of which the fullest use DEFENCE WAS SOUND Swansea had quite as much of the play as the Town, but they never moved so fluently and although they tried direct methods, they were doomed to failure against a Town defence which revealed no weakness. Although their advantage was so narrow the Town went along in assured style. There were one or two anxious moments, and Streten made two brilliant saves, but, for all that, it was seldom that Swansea looked likely to rescue a point. It was not until the last minute of the game that the Town's second goal arrived.
