Heavy Going Is Almost Certain

REPORTS from Swansea yesterday indicate that the Town will probably face very heavy going since it rained hard all Tuesday night and was still doing so yes-

The pitch was heavy before that after having two matches played on it last Saturday and so bad has it been this week that the Swansea players have been doing their training on another ground which is an unusual course for them to take.

After having gained only one point out of the last 10. Swansea have dropped dangerously near to the relegation zone, so their need for points will be just as urgent as that of the Town, who can give their promotion hopes a big boost by winning here,
