Before Town manager, Dally Duncan, can even begin to think about the selection of his team to visit Ipswich on Saturday, he will have to study reports on the fitness of injured players and their reactions to fitness tests to-morrow.

When the Town party arrived back from Manchester yesterday afternoon, they had with them at least one fairly serious addition to the injured list in Roy Davies, who is thought to be a very doubtful starter for the match at Portman-road.

During the second half of necessity of finding an outsidethe match at Bury he slightly right deputy, but that this will be provided the ligaments of a knee offset by the return of Pye, in a tackle, and reported yesterdes morning that the knee was A Club Is Interested very sure and tender.

Something of the same happened to Wally Shanks, but ne did not report his knee as being really troublesome yesterday, and there is a good chance of him being able to turn out.

Other casualties at Bury were Gordon Turner, who had a knee in his thigh, and George Cummins, a knock just below the knoe; but these are troubles of only a minor character.

High Hopes That Pye Will Play IN addition, the manager has to await a report on Jesse Pye. on whose return for this match high hopes are being built. it is likely that these will come true, for I understand that the position was that Pye could have played at Bury "at a pinch," but the Town were not prepared to take a risk of aggravating the slight strain to his thigh muscle. Peter MacEwan is making pro-
