

Beal, the Bridgwater goalkeeper, goes airborne again as Luton Town press home another attack. Here, he leaps to cut out another high centre from right-winger Mike Fairchild, with centre-forward Gordon Turner positioned to make the most of any mistake by Beal. Ironically, Beal was at fault when Luton scored the first goal . . . through Turner, in the 30th minute of the match,

Nearly a goal for the Town in their Cup-tie

And here's the save that may well have been the turning point of Saturday's cup-tie. Luton goalkeeper Ron Baynham is at full stretch to prevent this shot by Bridgwater right-half Scott providing the home team with an equaliser. McKechnie then scored twice for Luton to put the issue beyond doubt,
