CHANCE number one . . . And it falls to Alan Slough. But with the defence looking well beaten and Bury goalkeeper Ramsbottom committed to a despairing leap, the ball flashed over the bar.

Tuesday night was one of missed chances for the Town in their home match against Bury. Here are five of the 'goals' that got away . . .

YES, it looks like a goal as Town striker Malcolm MacDonald appears to get the ball past the goalkeeper. But the ball was not travelling fast enough and Ramsbottom was able to get to it before MacDonald could follow through.

AGAIN it's a duel in the air, but this time Ramsbottom gathered the ball cleanly to thwart Matt Tees, right, and Terry Branston who was backing up intelligently.

ONCE MORE a Town player (this time Branston) climbs above the massed Bury defence only to have Ramsbottom cut off the cross before he can get his head to it.

THIS time it's MacDonald who acrobatically gets up to the ball. Watched by Tees, right, he met it cleanly, but once again Ramsbottom was in position to deal with the danger.
