

THE PAIN AND THE PASSION

THE pain and the passion of promotion caught by Post photographer KEITH DONEY at Kenilworth Road on Saturday, when Town dropped a vital home point against lowly Charlton.

Above, left, the passion as substitute Viv Busby is completely overwhelmed by his delighted colleagues after equalising in the 1-1 draw. Above, right, the pain, as Roger Hoy falls to his knees with blood streaming from his cut nose.

Right, Charlie Wright, who defied Luton all afternoon, makes another good save from a thundering volley by Malcolm MacDonald.
