

Hutchison hurt

Luton 2, Blackpool 2

Tom Hutchison, on the verge of a possible £140,000 move to Coventry, limped off with an ankle injury in the 67th minute, but the news is that the injury is not serious.

He had done plenty to convince Joe Mercer of his worth. He picked Blackpool up off the floor after they had suffered a shock reverse in the third minute when Slough headed Luton in front. Not only did he get the equaliser after 17 minutes but provided the low centre for Ainscow to put them ahead.

Luton came back in the game with a speculative effort by Aston five minutes from half-time
