

HORN RECALL SAVES POINT FOR LUTON

By ROGER MALONE

Cardiff ... 0 Luton ... 0

LUTON, in a handy position in the Second Division table, gained another away point, but they will need to play better than this to last the pace in the promotion race.

Far too often it was left to their goalkeeper, Graham Horn, to save them, although Luton's manager, Harry Haslam, can take a bow for his shrewdness in deciding to recall Horn for this match.

With Frank O'Farrell seeing his first game as Cardiff's new manager, the lowly-placed Welsh team set out strongly to show their paces, and certainly deserved both points.

There was hardly a Luton attack worth mentioning, whereas at the other end Horn pulled off diving saves from McInch, Reece, and Woodruff, his most vital save being in the first-half, when he diverted Woodruff's point-blank drive against a post.

Showers chance

Near the end he starred again when Showers found himself with another clear chance, but once again the former Arsenal goalkeeper sprawled through the air, and knocked the ball aside for yet another Cardiff corner.
