HARRYS

I had to write this column before the Easter games were played so 1 can't comment on whether or not we have had a happy holiday so far as football is concerned. But I hope all our supporters have enjoyed the break, and my own Easter wish is the hope that so called supporters up and down the country have done nothing more to spoil the good name of football.

I am well aware that most clubs have the small minority of trouble makers, but I think Luton Town have a better record than most. My message is simple: give us all the support you can, but please take it easy. Sing your hearts out, but always try to keep out of trouble. Damage is sickening to everybody and even when it's not our fault, the football club gets the backlash.

On the other side of the coin there are a lot of happy events that go on behind the scenes. As the season draws towards its final stages, I and a lot of the players go out to schools, youth clubs and supporters clubs for such things as prize-giving and social evenings. The Bletchley branch of the Bobbers Club entertained us right royaly last week and I am pleased to be able to report an away win for Luton Town, the lads won the dominoes tournament against the supporters 5-1.

Naturally we play everything to win, but at Bletchley we were made so welcome that for once I wouldn't have minded if we had lost. It's nice to meet such a happy crowd of friends and we thoroughly enjoyed being with them. The same goes for the welcome we have been given on visits to local schools. We can't fit in all the invitations we get, but wherever possible I make time for the voungsters. They are the future for all of us, and for the game of football. I've watched a lot of school cup games and it's always nice to be reminded that football is still the most popular game in the world at all age levels. That's why we're here tonight and naturally my last Easter wish is for a good game for both sets of supporters and if we can take two points off Millwall, so much the better.

OFFICIAL CLUB SHOP

Luton Town, like every other football club, are indebted to the people who come into the club on match days to do various tasks. One family who has spent many hours at Kenilworth Road is John & Sylvia Smylie & son David. who are currently doing a wonderful job in the souvenir

A lot of our supporters may have been surprized to see a new supporters shop in business near the ground. So were we! For the benefit of all, Luton Town state that the only official retailer of souvenirs are Luton Town F.C. We have a shop open on match days at 66. Kenilworth Road next to the ticket office, also at the entrance to the enclosure, and souvenirs can be obtained throughout the week from the club's offices in Kenilworth Road. Obviously everyone is free to shop where he likes, but we would just like to point out that our shops are run to help Luton Town and to give a fair deal to our supporters. We have a policy of selling our goods at low profits and you will find that our prices are highly competitive.

All Our Yesterdays

A look back at Luton Town a decade

By Brian Swain, Sports Editor, Luton

THE RETURN to fitness of Bruce Rioch. a promising young attacking midfield player, gave the Town's small band of faithful supporters something to cheer about ten year ago this week.

He had been out with a leg injury since mid-February, missing eight games. and the Town had faced a real threat of having to ask for re-election for the first time in their history.

Easter failures had left supporters scared stiff, so much so that when Rioch returned, for a home game against promotion contenders Southend, there were only 4,666 spectators dctted around Kenilworth Road, the lowest gate since the previous October.

But if the misssing "supporters" thought the Town were in for another hiding, they were mistaken. Tony Read made a couple of good early saves, and the Town took charge. Max Dougan and John Moore closed up the centre of the defence and Keith Allen squeezed in the only goal of the match with an angled drive ten minutes from time.

That was followed by another home game, and once more the visitors were a team with hopes of winning promotion -Barrow, whose history was to go into a rapid decline and fall.

Never one of the country's most prestigious teams, they were having a rare season of success. They came to Luton on April 15, 1967, in third place in Division Four and with a reputation of playing enterprising and attacking soccer even away from home.

As it turned out, their willingness to attack cost them dear.

They were still playing the oldfashioned formation of five forwards. three half-backs and two full-backs. The Town had converted to 4-3-3 and as Barrow attacked wingers Graham French and Ray Whittaker found plenty of space to set up chances for their strikers.

The fair-haired Keith Allen spearheaded the central thrusts, and Barrow were killed off before half-time. Allen laid on a goal for Whittaker in the 18th minute, heading the ball to him after a corner by French, and two minutes later Allen helped himself to a second goal. It was a memorable effort - he nipped in between two defenders who were waiting for each other to clear, stole the ball, and raced through on his own. The goalkeeper dived hopefully at his feet. missed, and Allen scored.

The Town went three up in the 35th minute when Allen was pulled down on a run for goal and Whittaker scored from the penalty.

Barrow pulled a goal back in the second half through McGarry, but were never in the game, and the Town's second successive win, watched by 5,710. lifted them to 17th place in the table.

"Elastic!" 'Buck's' a hard-man, tough and strapping. In defence or overlapping. Pricy throws a twentyvarder, No one blasts a long-shot harder. Falkener tackles hard, but fairly, Heads out crosses fair and squarely. Futcher shines, a rising star, His class will surely take him far. Westy sprays out on-the-cue balls, Flicks and back-heels, chips and through-balls. Chambers plays with skill and cunning. Full of craft and tireless running. Lily body-swerves so neatly, Beats his man and scores so sweetly. Husband is a goalie's nightmare, Half a chance you'll find him right there. Ron's a gutsy. fearless runner, Watch him score a right-foot stunner. Aston takes on three defenders. Finds the net with left-foot benders. Geddis is the supersub, A lively bonus for the Club. Harry Haslam brewed the potion. Hatters you deserve promotion!

Today we would like to thank our friends from R.A.F. CHICKSANDS not only for their kind donation of the match ball but also for their loyal support throughout this and past seasons.

COACHING

IN MODERN football, one of the most important aspects in attacking play is what to do when you are not in possession of the ball.

Today's football demands that defenders mark tight and give attacking players as little space as possible. Apart from the technique and skills at all levels, it must be the first priority for every coach to get players to understand the importance of what to do when in possession with the ball.

Players who remain static when their side has possession will not progress far in the modern game. Movement off the ball becomes one of the musts for attacking play. When a player is running towards a space, he may be looking to receive the ball, perhaps he may lure a defender into a false position and therefore give his team mates at least 3 options: - (a) play the ball into the open space where the player is running, (b) use the space where his colleague has just run from, this will give him the opportunity to progress forward or to get into a scoring position, (c) play the ball into the open space where another supporting player can receive it.

It is obvious that to play without the ball is not an isolated movement by a certain player and to make these movements successful, it is fundamental that all players are aware of the situation.

The coach must encourage the players to realise the great value of the movements off the ball to the benefit of the team.

The supporters tend to follow every single movement of the player who is in direct contact with the ball or very close to it. The player knows this and if things are not going right when on the ball he may, by sensible running, create many opportunities for his colleagues but not get noticed.

Finally, to play without the ball does not mean sprint into spaces occasionally, it means every player must understand when, where and why to move off the ball. For this to function correctly everyone must know what is going on. This requires many hours of practice.

Practice is essential and for this purpose I will give you a very enjoyable game to play. In one half of the pitch, play six forwards v four defenders and a goalkeeper. The defenders will get a point for getting the ball on the halfway line; the forwards two points for every goal they score. With this practice, you can work in the following aspects: - (a) movement off the ball, (b) exploit the numerical advantage, (c) width in attack, (d) shooting ability, (e) improvisation, (f) marking and covering in defence, (g) the ability of defenders to come out of defensive positions playing the ball under numerical disadvantage.
