One fan's personal view of some of the great names of Luton Town.

By BRIAN SWAIN

If you ask 100 Luton Town fans of my generation to name the most complete footballer they have ever seen in a Hatters' team, I'll bet you would get the same answer at least 90 times: George Cummins.

On his day he could do the sort of tricks George Best produced at the height of his career. But if it wasn't his day, he'd drive you to distraction.

The Town paid a then record

GEORGE CUMMINS

fee of £12,000 to bring Cummins to Kenilworth Road from Everton in 1953.

Born in Dublin, he was already an Irish international, and nearly 30 years later he still holds a Luton Town record — his 19 appearances for Eire make him the most-capped player in the Town's history.

He was an inside-left, and hardly looked like a footballer. He seemed to be too pale and skinny to have much chance in the hurly-burly soccer of the Second Division, but opponents quickly learned not to judge by appearances.

Cummins was a creative genius. His ball control was something very special, and ally that with a perceptive and natural ability to play defencesplitting passes and you have a player who could be near to perfection.

He stayed at Kenilworth Road for eight years before vanishing into obscurity, and perhaps we expected too much from him. Knowing how brilliant he could be, we suffered agonies on the days when his powers mysteriously refused to materialise.

Gordon Turner, Allan Brown and Bob Morton all benefited from the service they received from Cummins on form, and he played a major role in the Town's 1955 promotion campiagn.

He flourished more often than not in the First Division too, but the glittering career took a couple of knocks with injuries.

The most serious cost him a cartilage in his knee, and in the late fifties his brilliant days became ever more rare. We thought Wembley Stadium in May 1959 would be the perfect setting for Cummins to remind the world of how good he could Alas for Town supporters, and for him, it was one of the bad days for the little insideforward. Perhaps it is why it was also a bad day for the whole team.

The good days are the one's I'd rather remember, and the sheer pleasure Cummins gave to me and many others ensures that he will always be remembered most for his brilliance.

Last Saturday was a tremendous day in many ways and yet very disappointing. It was wonderful to see the 20,000 crowd. When you see the standard of possible champions like Ipswich you realise that only these type of attendances will be good enough and we will need to strengthen our staff by the transfer Bobby Robson was genuine and fair in victory. Our first half performance was equal to anything Ipswich could offer. But in the opening 20 minutes of the second half they imposed some authority on the game. After we conceded the second goal the last 20 minutes became very open as we gambled and lost out.

ODD HAPPENINGS

'Play to the whistle' is an old maxim and has brought forwards quite a few goals over the years. With defenders appealing for off-side forwards have carried on and put the ball into the net 'just in case'. They have then been delighted to turn and see the referee, who in fact hadn't blown his whistle, pointing to the centre.

On the other hand, players have been known to hear what appears to be the referee's whistle only to find that it has come from someone in the crowd. One day in the fifties, Arsenal defender Dennis Evans heard what he thought was the final whistle in an Arsenal v Blackburn game.

Celebrating a comfortable 3-0 win for his side he banged the ball into his own net. Imagine his shock when he saw the referee pointing to the centre as inadvertently Dennis had made the score 3-1 with one of the hardest hit own goals in the history of the game.

An even more spectacular instance of a whistle which wasn't occurred in a West Midland League match between Walsall and Darlaston in November 1951. On a muddy pitch goals were being scored freely and, in the middle of the second-half, the visitors had shown signs of making a remarkable recovery as they pulled back from 7-1 to 7-4.

Walsall then launched a fierce attack, their striker Jack Winter (formerly with Sheffield United) crashed to the ground and a penalty seemed inevitable.

The crowd whistled, but the referee didn't. The Darlaston goalkeeper Jack Bailey thought the whistle had sounded and threw the ball down towards the penalty spot. By this time Winter was on his feet and he banged the ball back into the net.

Despite Darlaston protests the goal stood, making the score 8-4. Walsall finally won 9-5 in a match more memorable than many an FA Cup Final. In fact one of the Darlaston defenders Guy Wharton had played for Portsmouth in their 1939 FA Cup Final win at Wembley.

Maybe players are at times rather over-hasty to react to a stray whistle and should look at the referee to make sure that the sound has come from him

This is, however, not always practicable in the heat of the moment and spare a thought too for players who, from time to time, have played on after not hearing a referee's whistle—and have been booked for their pains on the grounds of time-wasting.

As far as experience is concerned, Brian Horton has plenty of that at his fingertips

He arrived at Kenilworth Road during the summer from Brighton where his experience of the First Division was seen as the ideal formula for manager David Pleat immediately appointing him our skipper.

Brian started his career with Port Vale where he made 236 appearances, scoring 33 goals. He eventually moved to the south coast where he skippered Brighton into Division One — and that's exactly what he hopes to do for the Hatters.

At Brighton, he made 218 senior appearances and again scored 33 goals - an added bonus from midfield.

He could not have wished for a more dramatic moment to score his first goal for us. In the FA Cup-tie against Swindon, a replay was on everyone's lips with the score locked at 1-1 with only two minutes left. But Brian popped up to sidefoot the winner in to give us a game against Ipswich last week.

Brian lost his ever-present record this season when he was forced to drop out of the match at Charlton where we drew 0-0 recently. This week, we asked him to answer the spotlight

What difference, if any, have you found between First and Second Division football?

'Obviously playing at Liverpool and Manchester United and other big clubs gives you a boost. Hopefully Luton will be there next season where the games possibly just a bit guicker and mistakes are punished. How do you relax before and after a game? 'The morning before a game I sleep in late. At pre-match lunch I just have eggs with toast. After a game I enjoy a drink with the lads and family for a while and later go with my wife and friends for a quiet meal. During the earlier part of the week I like to relax playing golf when possible.

What was your occupation before taking up football as a career?

'I joined Walsall as an apprentice professional straight from school. But I did not make it there and worked in the building trade for four years before I returned to League football with Port Vale. Do you remember your Football League

'My debut was for Port Vale against Preston which we won 1-0. The player I had to mark that day was Archie Gemmill and he went to join Derby with Brian Clough. Have you any favourite ground where you like to

'All the big time grounds are excellent but I think Villa Park and Molineux are my particular favourites maybe because I went there a lot when I was a lad and it was my ambition to play on those pitches.

I would like to concentrate my notes this week on clearing up the mascot/escorts jumble caused by match postponements. It is hard to believe, but these notes are the first for a League match magazine since we played Rotherham United on 28th November, last year!

And all this is due to the state of the weather during December and January. During that time, three home League matches had to be postponed and, as far as our members are concerned, that means that three mascots and twelve escorts have been disappointed.

In addition, they were probably confused because of the 'shunting' operation which meant moving our mascot/escort teams up one match. The original Chelsea mascot/escorts moved to the Cambridge match, and the original Cambridge mascot/escorts moved to the FA Cup game against Swindon.

This game was played on 2nd January as planned. But unfortunately, the League match with Queens Park Rangers was again lost to the bad weather, so I thought it might be helpful if I put matters concerning our young teams straight for the next few games and let's hope that the weather doesn't spoil things any more this season.

So to recap, the mascot/escort team for the rearranged game v Cambridge on Tuesday 2nd March, kick-off 7.45 will be:

Mascot: Richard Stretton, Stopsley Escorts: Peter Galvin, Luton, Suzanne Collier, Luton, Robert Johnson, Luton, Oliver Hill, Greenfield.

The 'team' for our home League match with Orient on Saturday 13th February had already been selected and the Junior Hatters concerned have been informed. However, the fifth round of the FA Cup is due to be played that day, and at the time of writing these notes I am not in a position to say whether our interest in the FA Cup is alive or dead. So 13th February could be subject to alteration too! It gets more complicated by the minute!

This leaves me to make a new draw for mascot/escorts teams for our home fixtures with Oldham Athletic (Saturday 27th February) and for our rearranged fixture with Chelsea on Tuesday 23rd March (kick-off 7.45 p.m.). This will be done very soon and will appear in my Junior Hatters column in the Evening Post/Echo on Tuesday, so look out for your name.

Finally, the date for the Queens Park Rangers match has yet to be rearranged, but when it is, the mascot/escort team will be as originally drawn.

The next Junior Hatters meeting will be in the Hatters Club on Tuesday 9th February at 6.30 p.m. The main feature of the evening will be a film show featuring the great Pele.

Our proposed away day trip to the Baseball Ground to watch the Hatters play Derby on Saturday 27th March is already full, and over-subscribed. But watch this space for a similar trip to Rotherham in April. Pam Gray is doing a fine job in organising both trips, so she will be your contact for the Rotherham

Now back to our mascot and escort teams for today's game:

Mascot: Robert Hardstaff of Armthorpe, Doncaster, South Yorks. Robert is 14, and attends Armthorpe Comprehensive School. His interests THE MASCOT . . .

Escorts: Nick Abbott of Windmill Avenue, Marshalwick, St. Albans, who is 12, and attends Beaumont School, St. Albans. His interests are football, cricket, snooker and golf and model making. He plays for his school 'A' and 'B' soccer teams, and his scout team.

Samantha Draper, of Blacksmith Common, Chalton, who is 10. Samantha attends Parkfields Middle School. Her interests are roller skating, horse riding, and discos. She plays netball for Parkfields Middle team.

John Sayer of Warden Hill Road, Luton. John is 11 and attends Warden Hill Junior School, where he plays for his school teams. His other interests are football, snooker, fishing, cricket and swimming.

Stephen Frost of St. Ethelbert Avenue, Luton. Stephen is 12, and attends Icknield High School. His interests are football, snooker, table tennis and cork collecting. He has played for William Austin Second, Third and Fourth year teams, and St. Andrews Scouts and Choir.

It is nice to return to our travels again after such a long break, and we look forward to the continuance of our services until the end of the season, ready for next season.

Our away coaches are certainly being well used. We had six travel to Charlton, which was excellent in view of the fact the game had been postponed only on the previous Saturday.

We need more couriers on away coaches. Would anyone like to volunteer? Perhaps if you talked to the courier on your coach, you would have an idea of what has to be done or, alternatively, ring me at the club offices, any morning between 9.30 a.m. and 1.30 p.m. (Luton 411622). It would help also if you could let me have your coach booking during these hours, and as early in the week as possible. The couriers and I are trying to steamline our arrangements to enable you to board and get away as quickly as possible.

We shall travel to Sheffield Wednesday on Saturday 6th February, leaving Maple Road at 11 a.m. and St Mary's Square, Hitchin, at 10.30 a.m. Routes and times for the Aylesbury/ Bletchley/Leighton Buzzard route will be available from myself or Graham Snookes (Aylesbury 748383). All fares will be adult £4, juvenile £2.50.

I am pleased the 'in' coaches on the original three runs are being used more, and hope that the newer runs from Bedford and Biggleswade will also become more popular. I know it takes time for new things to be established. But don't forget, the service is there so please advertise it among your friends.

Keep those membership forms coming in. Our aim is a substantial travel club membership by the end of the season, so we can begin our coaches straight away next season, and increase our travelling supporters week by week.

The re-arranged Barnsley game will be played on Tuesday 16th March. To avoid a lot of confusion at departure points, would everyone who booked on the original coaches, please rebook. If you find you cannot travel because it is Tuesday, and you have already paid, your money will be refunded.

Details of the Watford coaches for 20th February will appear in the Orient magazine. On this occasion, it would be greatly appeciated if you would pay for yor seat when booking, either by cheque or cash. The short journey would make it difficult for couriers to do their job efficiently.

A CUP-TIE HANGOVER

A look at Luton Town a decade ago By BRIAN SWAIN Sports Editor, Luton News

A Cup-tie hangover left Luton Town and their supporters baffled, bothered and bewildered ten years ago this week.

After playing champagne soccer and being praised all round for their performance in a 2-1 defeat against mighty West Ham, the team followed up with a performance that earned harsh words from manager Alec Stock.

The Town had gone eight League games without defeat — and, after the Cup dismissal, Stock talked about the chance to get back to winning ways rapidly and make an impact in the promotion race.

He took his team to Craven Cottage, to meet a Fulham side which was threatened with relegation. They had conceded 51 goals in 25 games, and had lost six of their previous seven matches when the Town turned up to meet them on 23rd January 1972.

KEITH WELLER

Football's habit of turning up surprises was never more blatant — the Town played so badly that even Stock admitted they were diabolical.

The defence stood and watched as George Johnston helped himself to two gift goals in the first half, and although Peter Anderson pulled one back early in the second, Les Barrett rounded off an easy 3-1 win for Fulham.

Stock refused to disclose the language he had used in the dressing room afterwards, but let it be known that a few home truths had been imparted.

And just to rub it in, Fulham boss Bill Dodgin told the Press that he was delighted with the victory — 'particularly because that was our worst display of the season.'

The Town's major problems stemmed from the lack of a consistent goalscorer. Vic Halom was proving to be a less than adequate replacement for Malcolm Macdonald, and Anderson, more of a midfield man than striker, was leading scorer with ten goals.

The point was underlined the following week when Queens Park Rangers came to Kenilworth Road. The attandance was 17,280, the biggest crowd of the season, and after Gerry Francis had put Rangers ahead the Town saved a point through a 25-yard blockbuster by full-back John Ryan.

Today's visitors were enjoying football life more than we were a decade ago. Leicester, managed by Jimmy Bloomfield, and with John Smith as secretary, were in the First Division, and were to finish in a safe mid-table position in a season which saw Nottingham Forest and Huddersfield Town relegated.

Peter Shilton was their goalkeeper, with a youngster named Mark Wallington in reserve, and their stars included David Nish, Alan Birchenall, Rod Fern, Len Glover and Keith Weller.

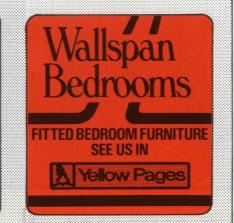

Ten years ago this weekend they beat Stoke 2-1 at Filbert Street with goals by Glover and John Farrington, watched by 26,931 fans.

AROUND THE TOWN

WELCOME BACK

It doesn't seem possible that today's match is our first at home in the Football League programme since November 28th when we beat Rotherham 3-1.

We have, of course, had two home FA Cup-ties against Swindon and Ipswich Town in addition to away Second Division tussles at Norwich City and Charlton which yielded four points for our promotion net.

But the big freeze claimed four other League matches which seriously disrupted our training schedules. Perhaps we can now look forward to an uninterrupted run-in to the end of the season.

DAVID'S WEMBLEY DATE

It's not only the local and national Press who take an avid interest in our progress these days. Manager David Pleat recently received a letter from the Daily Mail's New York correspondent Richard Lay asking him to settle a friendly argument among some of his Fleet Street colleagues.

Mr Lay wanted to know if David had played for England schoolboys in 1953-54 against Scotland at Wembley.

Our manager was able to inform Mr Lay that he did, in fact, play against Scotland although it was in season 1960-61 when England won 5-3. David scored one of the goals and was marked by Bobby Moncur, currently manager of Plymouth.

DEATH OF A FRIEND

We are sad to record the passing of one of our oldest supporters, Arthur Wright, who was a regular visitor to Kenilworth Road at the ripe old age of 89.

Arthur and his friend, ninetyone year old William Paton, were our guests at the home game against Rotherham at the end of November.

GRATEFUL THANKS

One of our recent sponsors, R. W. Unwin and Company Ltd., invited children from the National Children's Home at Harpenden to be their guests for the game.

It was a lovely gesture by managing director Ron Unwin. And it brought a heavy mail bag to our office from children who had taken the trouble to write their sincere thanks.

A DEDICATED FAN

We've heard of the fanatical support displayed by some of our fans but the devotion to Luton Town duly shown by 14 year old Damian Lally's father at one recent game must surely take some beating.

Damian said his father was on holiday 5,000 miles away in Barbados and was scheduled to return home on the day we played Rotherham United.

He left Barbados at 10.30 for the eight and a half hour jet flight to Heathrow. The time difference meant he arrived in England at 11 a.m. and reached his home in Hillfield Road, Hemel Hempstead, at 12.30 p.m.

'He didn't have time to tell me about the holiday,' Damian wrote. 'Instead, he grabbed something to eat and went straight to Kenilworth Road to watch the game.

'By 10 p.m. the same night, he was unable to watch Match of the Day because he had fallen asleep. But his exercise was made worthwhile when Luton won 3-1.'

Damian also enclosed a cutting from a Barbadian newspaper which mentioned Luton's team. The word of our fine entertainment is travelling fast.

HATTERS IN VERSE

Have you heard about the good ship, the Hatter? It's odds on you haven't, but one proud supporter has named her craft after her favourite team. Mrs Irene Walker, who lives in Derwent Road, Luton sent us the following verse.

We are Luton Town
supporters,
By the river so remote,
We send you all our greetings,
For today we launch our boat.
We've called our boat the Hatter,
For efforts past, well done,
And here's to happy sailing,
To Division number One.
So all the best to David Pleat,

May all past sorrows drown,

In rain or snow, win or defeat,
We're proud of Luton Town.

GREETINGS FROM DOWN UNDER

We're already mentioned one fan who flew back from Barbados to watch us in action recently. We've heard from another supporter who is a few miles away — in Australia.

Peter Swan wrote from Hoppers Crossing who wrote: 'I moved to Australia in May last year and continuously keep in close contact with the club through a close friend after being a fan for the last 20 years.

'No-one is more pleased than I with the progress of the team. I wish everyone at Kenilworth Road all the best in their bid for promotion.'

THE LOCALTASTE AND HOW TO SATISFY IT

We're very definite about our taste in beer around here. A clear light pint is what we look for; with a good, clean smack of malt and hops.

And there's only one name that really satisfies the local taste – BB. The light beer first brewed in Luton during the darkest days of the War by J. W. Green.

Only the finest hops and good, ripe barley go into the making. Then the brew is matured to exactly the right degree to give you a bright refreshing pint with a sound, full flavour.

American servicemen in local wartime bases declared that BB, chilled, was the nearest taste to Stateside draught.

It went down well when Syd Owen uled the Hatters.

And it's been going down well ever since.
Because BB is brewed with a proper respect for quality. To keep up the traditions we value round here.

It is nice to return to regular football again. After such a long break it is almost like starting a new season, as well as a new year. Today we meet Leicester City again, and wish our team good luck for a good game.

Perhaps we shall be able to catch up on some of our social functions once we have watched the backlog of games. We have been asked when we are putting on our New Years party, which was one of the casualties of the weather! We did manage to draw the raffle in the Century Club in the presence of some committee members and members. The winners are as follows, and full details are available in the Century Club.

MATCH SPONSOR

Great Lakes Trade Exchange

'How to boost your business while conserving your cash' — that's the promise held out by today's match sponsor, Great Lakes Trade Exchange.

In just three short months, Great Lakes have turned that promise into reality for scores of Bedfordshire business and commercial enterprises.

How?

In a word — by BARTER.

In its most primitive form (in a one-to-one situation), barter was in business before the Bible.

What Great Lakes have done has been to take today's technology — the computer — and place it at the centre of a barter system that enables businesses to exchange their goods and services for thousands of other goods or services without a penny changing hands.

Instead of cash, Great Lakes deal in Barter Units — each one worth £1.

A garage owner will sell a new car to an Exchange member and his account will be credited with, say 6,000 units. He'd like a new air compressor for his workshop — the Exchange will find a member with one to sell which might take, say, 1,000 units.

He's had a run on snow tyres and would like to restock — the Exchange will have several tyre distributors who will supply. And so on . . .

Meanwhile, the member who sold the compressor might exchange his units for hotel accommodation for a sales conference he was planning.

The hotelier might use the units to have a new carpet fitted in the restaurant.

The carpet supplier might use his units to install a new till in his shop.

The office equipment member who supplied the till might want a new car for his salesman. So it's back to the garage owner and the cycle is complete.

Everyone has obtained goods they needed to run their business without damaging their bank account. They've had customers through their doors they would not normally have had.

And, as a major point of interest, they've obtained full retail value for their 'sales' — discounting is actively discouraged. (Over-charging is punished by instant dismissal from the Exchange).

But as the garage owner, the compressor supplier, the distributor and the rest bought their goods initially at wholesale price, another benefit becomes apparent they are buying at wholesale and selling at retail.

 Good business!

Which is what Great Lakes brings its members.

fice at Luton 503773.

PROGRAMME CORNER

By JOHN FARMER

Pre-First World War programmes have in general survived even less well than people of that time. Some are still with us, however, and like some people of that era are extremely well preserved and interesting.

Most clubs had issued small team sheets before the turn of the century, but from 1900 to the outbreak of war several clubs produced quite substantial issues.

Though Arsenal were then a Second Division club known as 'Woolwich Arsenal' they were among the front-runners when it came to programmes. An issue of theirs dated 1911 is a substantial 14 page one with just one advertisement — for the new fountain pen.

They do, however, refer in three different places to the need to support the 'Gunners' the following week at Bradford and to this end a special train costing just 12 shillings (60p) looks an attractive proposition, being labelled 'Cook's Corridor Restaurant Car Excursion' Highbury is also labelled 'The Most Accessible had recently gained revenge for a 6-0 defeat at Birmingham by winning the return game 4-0.

The Bradford team are also congratulated by the writers on their sportsmanship towards the Arsenal players in wishing them well at the end of a recent game and there is also a very frank confession 'At Leicester on Saturday we were rather lucky to win'.

Another full page is devoted to Ground in London' with 80 trains per hour arriving at either Gillespie Road or Drayton Park, the two nearest tube stations of the time.

Quite eye-catching is a fullpage cartoon depicting four men each representing a leading Second Division club, waiting at a theatre door that carries the message 'Two seats only'.

The current club notes are labelled 'Weekly Chat by the Directors' and make reference to the way that Glossup North End answers to correspondents. One can only hazard a wild guess at the sort of question that elicited the reply 'The grand stand is not yet a mile in length, nor are the tip up seats for sale.'

The inside back page offers shares at £1 each with the offer to accept this large sum in four monthly instalments. This also enables the purchaser to receive a discount off the price of a season ticket which was then one guinea (£1-05).

If this has a long ago and far away ting the warning on the back page is still relevant today. It reads 'The public are respectfully warned . . . against purchasing pirate programmes,.

The ticket office, now under the wing of the lottery and souvenirs division, has just completed its second big exercise in selling tickets for the FA Cup-tie last week.

There were a few problems, due mainly to supporters who failed to bring their season ticket books to the office when purchasing their stand seats.

It has been a practice which has been allowed previously but cannot be allowed to continue. It causes delays in the issue of tickets and, for the previous Cup-tie against Swindon we had a situation where two people were competing to sit in the same seat.

We recognise that those supporters who live in outlying areas do not relish the thought of visiting the ground twice — once to buy your ticket and once to watch the match.

But there could have been an easy way out for many of you. The method we highly recommend is that supporters post to us, in ample time, the appropriate voucher, a stamped addressed envelope and the correct remittance.

By return post, you will be in possession of your ticket without having to apply in person at the ticket office.

We regret we cannot entertain requests to reserve match tickets by telephone. That practice has also been previously allowed but we have found that many reserved tickets have never been claimed.

We could have sold those particular tickets many times and it simply means the club has lost valuable revenue.

We do, of course, accept postal applications for any League match providing it is accompanied by a postal order or cheque for £3. The ticket will be set aside for collection from the ticket office on the day of the match.

With First Division soccer next season a big possibility, we are in the process of streamlining our operation to fall in line with other clubs.

The new system will help us to help you. MIKE HARDWICKECommercial Manager

LEICESTER CITY

Leicester City arrive at Kenilworth Road this afternoon looking for a better second half to the season than they enjoyed in the first period.

The club are back where they started under tough talking manager Jock Wallace - in the Second Division after being relegated at the end of last season.

Wallace is well aware of the score after taking Leicester to Division One in only his second season at Filbert Street and insisted at the end of last season: 'We are going down with a better team than the one which took us up."

Wallace, a burly Scot, has fine credentials. But how many people south of the border realised 13 years ago that he was to carve his own little piece of history when, as manager of tiny Berwick Rangers, he plotted the downfall of the mighty Glasgow Rangers in the Scottish Cup.

Rangers, perhaps not surprisingly, didn't forget Wallace and he later became their manager and was in charge of the grand slam both Cups and the League championship - in 1976 and 1978.

But Leicester, in a bad way in 1978, were also to make their move for the respected manager and successfully persuaded him to join them. Leicester had just been relegated from the First Division with one of the worst scoring records of all time and there was real possibility that they would slip immediately into the Third.

Numerous players had been bought and sold during the relegation season under manager Frank McLintock and the framework of former boss Jimmy Bloomfield had already been dismantled.

Wallace stripped the club to its foundations and the survivors of the Bloomfield era moved on when Steve Whitworth (now with Bolton) went to Sunderland; Steve Sims joined Watford; Denis Rofe went to Chelsea and Keith Weller finished up in America.

promotion, but Wallace bought skilfully, mainly from his broad knowledge of Scottish players, and there was a hardcore of experience in the side which outpaced Chelsea, Birmingham and Sunderland for the championship in May 1980.

Changes during that summer Partick Thistle.

But Leicester's return to the First

The experts predicted a quick return this season for Leicester. But things haven't quite gone as Wallace would have planned.

Leicester have shown only average form and won only three of their nine matches at home. On their travels, they have taken maximum points only three times from

So Wallace will obviously be out pearances last season.

The new manager, as fearless as ever, brought in the youngsters and they had enough running to keep the club out of the Third Division by the skin of their teeth.

It still seemed a long way to were kept to a minimum. Promotion skipper Eddie Kelly, previously with Arsenal and QPR, moved on to Notts County. But his departure was balanced by the arrival at Filbert Street of Scottish Under-21 international Jim Melrose from Division last only one season. They dropped back into the Second for the start of this term after finishing second from bottom with 32 points from 42 League games.

Again, lack of goals was the main reason when Leicester failed to average one a game and they accompanied Norwich City and Crystal Palace in the dreaded drop.

to strenghten that record in the second half of the season. And he has the boost of Eddie Kelly's experience when he was released by Notts County after making 27 ap-

Kelly has over 300 Football League games to his credit and his experience obviously rubs off onto younger members of the staff.

Skipper Mark Wallington, the club's keeper is another experienced member of the team, and Wallace will look to Melrose to knock in his fair share of the goals in the second half of the season.

Kevin MacDonald, still only 19, was another player to move from Scotland when he joined Leicester for the modest fee of £10,000 from Inverness Caledonian.

But time is not on Wallace's side as he attempts to bounce back to the First Division immediately and the big Scot will see today's game as another chance to make up some of the leeway on the pack chasing the leaders at the top.

Vauxhall. Backed by the world-wide resources of General Motors.

Vauxhall cars are designed in Europe specifically to meet the demanding requirements of European motorists.

The advanced technology in today's Vauxhalls though, is made possible by the Company being part of General Motors, the world's largest car and truck manufacturer.

At General Motors' 330-acre Technical Centre in the US, research and development facilities are on an unrivalled scale. Aerodynamics, new engines, transmissions, electronics, new propellants, manufacturing techniques – these and every other aspect of car design are the subject of intensive development providing backing for General Motors' divisions throughout the world.

The facilities are further strengthened by General Motors' research and development centres such as the Millbrook Proving Ground in the UK.

It enables Vauxhall to introduce new technology and advanced design features ahead of the field thus benefiting our customers.
