

LUTON stole a win in the last 11 minutes at Bramall Lane last night.

Second Division United were coasting with a 1-0 lead to take into the second leg on Luton's artificial pitch in a fortnight's time.

But suddenly the sweet football produced by Luton found a cutting edge that sliced clean through the ring of steel United had erected round their goal.

Strike No. 1 brought Brian Stein his fourth goal of the season when he drilled home a chance created by Emeka Nwajlobi's elegant glide through.

In injury time Stein returned the compliment by dashing down the same right flank before pulling the ball back for Nwajiobi to score.

This was as devastating a way as you could imagine for Luton to break the jinx United held over them in this competition. In the three previous games between the clubs, Luton had lost all three.

The match was basically a contest between Luton's slightly smoother style and United's sheer grit, which held out well — until that late cave-in — after Steve Foley's headed goal.
