

WIZARD WALSH

PAUL WALSH upset his old boss and delighted his present one with a two-goal show at Anfield.

Luton's David Pleat, who sold Walsh to Liverpool for £750,000, was wild about the free-kick that led to Liverpool's decisive third goal.

"Walsh dived after losing the ball," said Pleat.

"I should know—he used to do it like that when he was with us. That third goal killed us off."

Kenny Dalglish said that Walsh took his goals well—"The second was a great effort"—and added: "I'd be happy if he came off the transfer list."

Walsh, who sought a move after being dropped earlier in the month, said: "I'm pleased to score two, and should have had a third. But I'm not saying anything about my personal situation here."

The first Walsh goal was a close-range shot through Sealey's legs. The second was the final touch to a superb 60-yard move involving Molby, Dalglish and Johnston.

Luton were right out of it then, but they got back into the match when Grobbelaar fumbled a Preece corner and Foster swept the ball in.

Molby curled in the disputed free-kick to make it 3-1, only for wobbly Grobbelaar to misjudge a long shot from Harford that bounced in off a post.

"We went to the dogs in the second half," said Dalglish.

"But I've got to give Luton credit. You can see why they scored seven last week."
