BUSH TELEGRAPH

Luton Town's visit here this afternoon to take part in the excitement and glamour of a 5th Round F.A. Cup Tie is also a rather ironic occasion: it is the last time our visitors will play us at Rangers Stadium on an artificial pitch (unless, of course, we now hit a series of replays....). It is no secret that, after Rangers had installed the first artificial playing surface in League Football, Luton Town liked what they saw here and followed our example. But now we're deserting them and we're returning to grass at the end of this season. (Terry Venables will have to write a new book called "They Used To Play On An Artificial Pitch"). So today's game, which our manager, Jim Smith, has described as The Plastic Cup Final, marks the end of an era for QPR v Luton meetings. We trust this match will live up to the occasion.

NEWS FLASH: Our home game against Sheffield Wednesday on Saturday 23rd April 88 will be our very last fixture on an artificial playing surface and we intend to make this a Special Gala Day. All manner of exciting entertainment is being laid on for that afternoon and it is going to be a very memorable event indeed. Start booking your places now!

QPR v LIVERPOOL The big game of the season, our Division 1 fixture against Liverpool, takes place at this ground on Saturday 5th March 88. Please note the following special arrangements in connection with this match.

Anti-Forgery Tickets Our apologies to ticket applicants who have experienced some delay in obtaining their tickets for this game. This is due to the fact that, in order to avoid the problem we experienced at the West Ham F.A. Cup Tie, we have been printing new tickets which incorporate an anti-forgery device. This has slowed down delivery of the tickets but they are on sale now.

Seat Tickets As we go to press, nearly all seat tickets are sold out with the exception of some £9 seats in the Ellerslie Road Stand and a good selection of £5 and £6 seats in the Loftus Road Family Stand. Please remember that, in order to purchase these Loftus Road Family Stand seats, you must be a Rangers Membership Card Holder. Application forms are available at the Box Office or will be sent to you if you phone 01-743 0262.

Terrace Tickets This game has been made All Ticket with Terrace Tickets costing £4 each. On sale at the Box Office now are Loftus Road Terrace Tickets (to Rangers Membership Card Holders) and South Africa Road Paddock (East End) to non-Membership Card Holders).

REPLAY NOTICE

In the event that this afternoon's match results in a draw, the replay will take place at Kenilworth Road, Luton on Wednesday 24th February 88 (K.O. 7.45 p.m.). Luton Town have asked us to draw the attention of Rangers Supporters to the fact that no seats will be available for them for such a replay (as authorised by the Football Association). However, terrace accommodation will be available for 2,500 standing Rangers Supporters for such a replay.

THANK YOU FROM GARY! Gary Waddock has asked us to give a very special thank-you in these pages to all those loyal Rangers Supporters who came along to his Testimonial Match on Monday night. He would also like to send his particular appreciation to the Stewards and Turnstlemen who worked without pay that evening in order to obtain a good financial return. Very many thanks to you all!

REPORTS

It is fitting that such a seven (or is it eight?) days that I have just experienced should culminate in an F.A. Cup tie. And Luton at that.

Luton who, until this time last year, were unbeaten at Loftus Road, but then lost an F.A. Cup re-play and this autumn lost their unbeaten League record here as well. So a foe to be respected, if not feared. Certainly they have shown a liking for our pitch over the years since it was installed. It was Luton, in fact, who won the first League game ever played on it. Now they have an all weather surface themselves. Last season, they tell me, over 500 games were played on it by local clubs. So it has certainly paid off financially, if not in popularity with other League clubs.

The other controversial decision taken by Luton is their total membership scheme. In other words, no visiting supporters. Having been at the Luton-Millwall Cup tie that caused this policy to come into being, I can quite understand why it was brought in. Hopefully, now it could be modified to admit visiting supporters who belong to a membership scheme. In fact I would to see the start of a Football League Membership scheme, so that holders of a national soccer membership card could be admitted to a membership section of any ground in Britain.

Before I became a full-time Rangers supporter, I used to enjoy choosing the Match of the Day in London and going to see it from the terraces. It must be said that this was a long time ago, and everyone was quite safe.

But a national card might be the answer. At least Luton grasped the nettle. Too often in soccer, as in life itself, the biggest problems are avoided, and treated as if they do not exist.

So on to more pleasant matters. Monday night was a vintage night for all Rangers supporters who turned up to say their own farewell to Gary Waddock. And I was amazed at the size of the crowd. It was a warm, wonderful evening, and I actually had the pleasure of playing in the famed superhooped shirt.

Though I would have preferred the No. Ten shirt to the No. Seven I was allocated. I was asked by an interviewer afterwards if I had enjoyed the game. I said that I had, and that I had tried to play the Wayne Fereday role. It was obvious that you need a moustache as well as a swift pair of legs to take up that role!

For me the revelation of the curtain-raiser match was the form of my opposing captain, Gary McDonald, more popularly known as Darren in the Eastenders. The goal he headed in the second half was quite superb, and I'm sure he could have made a career from soccer, if he had not become an actor. Afterwards over a sandwich he talked about his love for soccer, and was a charming, unassuming person. In fact the last thing you would have thought he did for a living was acting.

I found the pitch tricky, but that could be down to my own lack of the basic skills. The ball tends to shoot away from you, it has to be played accurately to the chest or legs. And it is certainly hard on the joints. I don't think anyone with a past, serious, injury, would be able to walk very well the day after playing on it. And it certainly increased my respect for the professionals who play League and Cup matches on it, and make it all look comparatively easy.

We certainly saw plenty of skill in Gary Waddock's game. Especially from players like Tony Currie and Stan Bowles. It was good to meet so many Rangers old boys afterwards. Tony has now returned to Sheffield United to train the youth team. He has as much respect and love from the fans there as Rodney Marsh has always had here. They tell me that when he held a Testimonial game at Sheffield some years after he had left, he was rewarded with a crowd of over 17,000.

As for Stan, he was his normally enigmatic self. A player, I feel, who retired before his time. But he has fallen out of love with the game that was his living, feeling strongly that the skills he contributed are not wanted these days. I'm not so sure, when you see West Ham snapping up Liam Brady, and younger players thriving on the time and space his skills can give them.

Another of my ex-Rangers favourites was watching the game: Ian Stewart, who is currently with Portsmouth, but has now gone on loan to Brentford. I'd like to see The Bees sign him, but first there is a rather large question of him being on First Division wages. I still think he would be happier, if momentarily less well off, back in West London where all his friends still live. And as he found out on Monday night, he will always be welcomed by the fans here.

Phil Parkes was as good as ever in goal, in fact he seems to have shed a bit of weight lately. He is now not only still on the books of West Ham, but running a thriving building business as well. He is a lesson to many a younger player, because he qualified as a carpenter, as well as becoming a professional footballer, which shows it can and ought to be done. Young players have a lot of time off, and this should be used to gain themselves some sort of qualification or skill. Because as we saw with Gary, an injury can end your career at any moment. It was sad to see this week that Paul Cannonville has also had to give up soccer because of injury at the age 25. I talked to Glenn Hoddle about this and other subjects when we met before Gary's match. The idea was to get him to talk about being marked by Gary in the 1982 Cup Final. He was very generous in his feelings towards Gary recalling: "He marked my really well. Rangers did enough to deserve to win, and after we won the re-play Gary burst into tears. Still, we were the only two players to swap shirts on the pitch."

And lastly those of you who watch London Plus on a Friday night will have heard me say last week: "And a new QPR supporter was born in the West London Hospital today." Yes, I am already entering my daughter Gemma for the dreaded 'bouncing baby' competition. When I told Ron Phillips this he nodded wisely and pointed to a large box file on a shelf in his office saying: "That is full of bouncing babies." I am also quite aware of the strong feelings of correspondents on the letters page. So I'll hold my fire for a while. Although I might bring her to a match soon and claim the youngest off-spring to have watched a Rangers game. Millwall already have creche (no comment), but how about Rangers installing one in the school next door. Gemma's mother Juliet is a staunch Rangers fan!

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

MEMBERSHIP SCHEMES

In view of recent publicity I thought I should summarise our views and position concerning membership schemes.

- 1) We are in favour of membership and family areas.
- 2) We are against the arbitrary "50% scheme" imposed by the Government.

When, last summer, the 50% requirement was introduced we decided that, although we considered it inappropriate to Rangers Stadium, we should nevertheless implement the scheme and prove/disprove it in practice, allocating 9,902 seating and standing positions.

Despite extensive marketing our total membership is only 5,985, which means that our members area is certain to have many vacant places, even when the remainder of the ground is full. In any event many of our members do not wish to be in the members area, preferring their traditional places.

Rangers Stadium is ideally laid out for flexible allocation of space, dependent upon demand. As you knew, unfortunately we often have more visiting supporters than our own. Also, in London, there are many "fleeting" spectators whom we must accommodate. If the Government wish to cut down on "tribal" attitudes it is just these "neutrals" who need to be encouraged. Under the "50% scheme" there was no terrace space available for them.

Following the match against Chelsea it was agreed with the Police that the allocation of the membership area had contributed to our crowd problems. Consequently an application was made and approved to reduce the area to 41%. The West Ham game again highlighted the problem where we had to "decant" West Ham supporters into the "neutral" area and neutrals into the membership area. Thank goodness the excellent behaviour of all supporters and the understanding of our members avoided any serious trouble. We are now, with the appropriate authorities, looking at ways of avoiding the problem on future big matches.

The situation in each individual club is different. A provincial town club with a static population is entirely different from a city club with a large fleeting and visiting factor. Clearly the Government did not consult adequately with the clubs before introducing their scheme, which is ill-conceived. It seems to be no more than an effort to pass over responsibility for law and order. With the recent problems at boxing, will they require membership schemes to watch boxing matches – or pop-concerts if this is the next target for trouble makers? If the Government wish to introduce identity cards then let everyone carry them but the apartheid against law abiding citizens who wish to watch football is unacceptable. Likewise "freedom of the individual" is given as an excuse for not taking away passports of hooligans. The loss of our freedom to watch English teams in Europe is conveniently overlooked.

We hope that common sense will prevail and we will be able to introduce a suitable membership scheme next season.

We currently give members:—

- preferential booking for Cup matches
- guaranteed tickets to see Q.P.R. at Wembley!
- no price increase for "premium" matches

We would welcome other ideas to consider for incorporation into the scheme.

QPR

My instructions from Jim Smith were crystal clear. I rang him at the golf and country club in the West Country where Rangers tuned up this week for today's important F.A. Cup tie. "Don't mention it's a lucky venue", said Jim.

Certainly not, sir. Suffice to say that Rangers prepared for their third round Cup win at Yeovil and the Fourth Round home tie against West Ham United ... in Cornwall.

The 16 players on the trip, including young Welsh centre back Brian Law and Mark Fleming, Rangers' latest pro. signing, prepared for the big game by training, playing golf and badminton and sunbathing.

Sunbathing? It was 60 degrees at St Mellions on Monday and Tuesday. Jim Smith forgot to say "Wish you were here!"

Mark Falco was unable to train while the lads were away. Rangers' £350,000 signing from Glasgow Rangers collected a groin strain while training the day before last week's visit to Everton. Les Ferdinand had his first game of the season as Mark's deputy.

Mark, seven goals in 12 games since joining QPR early in December, is in the top scorers' list. He collected 10 in 13 games with Glasgow Rangers earlier this season.

That's why manager Smith and top judges who play against him rate him so highly. Steve Foster, Luton's player-coach is on record as saying Mark is "pound for pound the hardest striker in the First Division".

We await an update on that view at 4.40 p.m. this afternoon.

Rangers skipper Alan McDonald was withdrawn from the Northern Ireland squad for this week's visit to Greece as he has been nursing an ankle injury in recent games.

Mark Dennis, who is under suspension until March, was back in training this week. He has been earning good notices for his charity work and helping out at an old people's home.

Goalkeeper David Seaman, who fractured a thumb just before Christmas, is well on the comeback trail. Manager Smith reckons he will be in contention "in a couple of games".

It was nostalgia night at Rangers Stadium on Monday when QPR All-Stars met Charleroi, the Belgium First Division side in a testimonial match for one of Rangers' most popular sons, Gary Waddock.

The consensus of opinion was that Tony Currie was the star of the 1-1 draw. Quite a tribute when you consider this Rangers midfield line-up: former England and QPR captain Garry Francis, Waddock, Currie and Liam Brady, Gary's team-mate in the Republic of Ireland side in so many games.

Coach Bobby Campbell, who helped Brady's development to stardom when he was at Arsenal, described Liam's pass that gave John Byrne the chance to score Rangers' goal as "world class".

Seaman played for an hour; former QPR favourite Phil Parkes, now with Brady at West

Ham took over. West Ham manager John Lyall also released Tony Gale to help the All-stars alongside Robbie James in defence.

Two current members of the first team squad, Warren Neill and Wayne Fereday, were the full backs; up front the one and only Stan Bowles played alongside Byrne until he had to go off with a thigh strain.

The crowd of 4,473 produced receipts of £17,902 – but got value for money from an entertaining game with quite a touch of class.

There has been speculation in the papers about the future of "Budgie" Byrne. The Republic of Ireland forward has taken something of a back seat since the arrival of Falco to link with Gary Bannister as a new strike force.

West Bromwich Albion manager Ron Atkinson and Sunderland's Denis Smith, who was John's boss at York City before he joined Rangers in a £100,000 deal when Alan Mullery was manager, have certainly made inquiries. John's commendable attitude has been that he would rather stay and fight for his place – although, obviously, he wants to stay in the limelight with Eire due in West Germany for the European Championship Finals.

Byrne was on target when Rangers played a behind closed doors game against A.S. Monaco, the French First Division leaders, during their English tour to play Aston Villa, Newcastle United and Tottenham Hotspur.

Mark Hatley, who Bobby Campbell signed for Portsmouth when he was manager there, played in the game. Hoddle, nursing a slight injury, sat out the game so that he would be fit for his return to White Hart Lane this week. The hour-long game ended 1-1.

Dean Coney and Les Ferdinand scored the goals as Rangers beat Charlton Athletic 2-0 in a Sunday Mirror Football Combination game.

The reserves lost 2-0 at Highbury against a strong Arsenal side. Seaman and Coney were the stars for Rangers' young side.

Today's game should have been a First Division fixture at Luton. The Cup draw means that Rangers have successive home games against Wimbledon, Liverpool, Nottingham Forest and Norwich – plus the possibility of another in the sixth round of the Cup on March 12! Don't tell Jim Smith I said that.

It's Old Pals day this afternoon. Rangers manager Jim Smith and Ray Harford, his Luton counterpart, were players together at Lincoln... and Ray played for Jim when he was managing Colchester. I'm sure a game of football, even a fifth round Cup tie, isn't going to spoil a beautiful friendship.

A special welcome, too, to John Smith, Luton's executive director. He started as a soccer administrator at Rangers as a 21-year-old with Alec Stock back in 1960. I met him on his first day at work here. I'm sure a game of football....

Best wishes to reserve team coach Bobby Campbell, who joined Chelsea this week. This was his third spell at Rangers, originally with Gordon Jago, then Frank Sibley and now Jim Smith.

Bobby, a Liverpudlian who played at Anfield, was manager of both Fulham and Portsmouth and No. 2 to Bertie Mee at Arsenal.

He has dealt with star players all his coaching life – George Best, Bobby Moore, Rodney Marsh, Stan Bowles, Charlie George, Terry Venables, Gerry Francis, Liam Brady and David O'Leary.

Bobby signed Mark Hatley for Pompey for a bargain £190,000. More to the point for Rangers, he signed Paul Parker and Dean Coney for Fulham as 13-year-olds.

TONY PULLEIN

THE LUTON TOWN FILE

Top writer and super-sleuth Tony Pullein has carried out some detective work on today's opponents and this is his report.

HOW WILL THEY LINE UP

Ray Harford, who took over as Luton's manager last summer, has now found a settled side that could bring the club its first major trophy this season.

Mark Stein has now established himself alongside Mick Harford in the Hatters attack. Stein has scored six goals in his last five League matches and has netted nine times so far.

Harford is leading scorer with 15 – but he has yet to get off the mark in the F.A. Cup.

Brian Stein – Mark's older brother – now usually plays deeper in midfield but he has still scored ten goals. Darren McDonough, Danny Wilson and Ian Allinson, who was signed from Stoke in October, have also been playing in midfield.

Steve Foster and Mel Donaghy form a formidable central defensive partnership whilst Tim Breacker has been filling the right-back spot.

Ashley Grimes was at left-back until he was injured, when Rob Johnson returned to the side.

Les Sealey remains well in command in goal.

Mr. Harford, who took over as manager this summer, had been with the club for a year as coach. He had previously managed Fulham for two years. He spent his playing days with Charlton, Exeter, Lincoln, Mansfield, Port Vale and Colchester.

A LOOK BACK

Luton last season broke all club records by finishing seventh in the First Division – even though they lost manager David Pleat, the man who had lifted the club from the depths of Division Two, who moved on to Tottenham during the summer of 1986.

John Moore took over but, in spite of the Hatters' unprecedented success, he stood down in the summer because he was never really happy in the job. Coach Ray Harford has now taken over as manager.

He will now be seeking to break more barriers. Luton, founded in 1885, have yet to win any of the game's major honours. Last season was their best in the League but they were beaten by Nottingham Forest when they appeared in their only F.A. Cup final in 1959.

Having progressed to the semi-final of the Littlewoods Cup this season, the Hatters now have an excellent chance of appearing in the final for the first time.

Luton were elected to the Second Division of the Football League in 1897 but failed to gain re-election three years later. They returned to the Southern League and became one of the founder members of the League's Third Division (South) in 1920.

They moved up to Division Two in 1937 and in 1955 tasted First Division football for the first time. But disaster struck following relegation five years later. By 1965 they were Division Four.

Slowly their recovery began. They rose back to Division Three in 1968 and to the Second Division two years later. In 1982 they won the Second Division Championship and became the first club ever to drop from Division One to Four and then regain its place at the top.

TWO ROUTES TO WEMBLEY

Luton have two routes to Wembley beckoning them. If they can win this fifth round tie they will be only two games away from the F.A. Cup final. They are even closer in the Littlewoods Cup, having held Oxford to 1-1 away from home in the first-leg of the semi-final.

The Hatters are now favourites to win at Kenilworth Road and to go to Wembley for the first time since 1959.

After winning at Hartlepool in the third round of the F.A. Cup, Luton came back from the dead in the next round at home to Southampton. Trailing 0-1 with only seven minutes to play, Luton struck twice within two minutes to snatch the tie 2-1 and qualify for their trip to The Bush.

In the Littlewoods Cup they defeated Wigan in both legs of round two – 1-0 away, 4-2 at home – before being drawn at home to Coventry. That tie had to be switched to Leicester because of Luton's ban on away fans but the Hatters still won 3-1.

Next came a tough tie at Ipswich where Luton won 1-0. When they relaxed their ban on away fans, Luton played at home to Bradford City in found five, winning 2-0.

Luton's away form in the First Division has not been too impressive. Their only away wins in the League came at Oxford (5-2), Sheffield Wednesday (2-0) and Watford (1-0). Their only other away point came from a draw at West Ham (1-1).

Luton were beaten at Derby (0-1), Chelsea (0-3), Charlton (0-1), Q.P.R. (0-2), Portsmouth (1-3), Everton (0-2) and Arsenal (1-2).

DEREK BUXTON

Derek Buxton, our Statistics Wizard, has assembled one of the best collections of club records in the football league, and uses it to look back on the other times we have played today's visitors.

QPR v Luton Town

Today you will be watching the seventh, 5th round FA Cup Tie, to be played at Loftus Road.

For those of you who read the notes in the West Ham Cup programme (I do hope he has turned up this afternoon) – you will remember that I told you that we hadn't lost a 4th round FA Cup match since 1923 at Loftus Road and I thought that that might ruin our chances. However it didn't and although I can't beat that statistic for a 5th round Cup Tie, I can tell you that we haven't lost a 5th Round Cup Tie for 42 years at Loftus Road. We actually lost the very first one, 1-3 to Brentford on 9th February 1946.

Since then however, our record reads:-

7-2-1948 (Surprise, surprise)
7-7-1970
19-2-1974 (replay)
18-2-1978

losing in 1970. 5 more successes ended in 1981 (and 1983 and 1984) and now we remain unbeaten in 4 games.

Luton Town supporters no doubt, will be convinced today's game will end in a draw for the last 4 games have gone, D, W, D, W.

Of course I could convince QPR supporters that the chances of success today are quite good by telling them that we haven't lost a match against Luton at Loftus Road, played in February and March, since 1924.

Of course, should this match end in a draw, Luton Town fans should be pretty optimistic about the result of the replay – for we haven't won any of our last 14

LUTON TOWN	3-1
DERBY COUNTY	1-0
COVENTRY CITY	3-2
NOTTINGHAM FOREST	1-1
GRIMSBY TOWN	3-1

This will be the 10th Cup meeting against Luton Town and the 10th time that we have played them.

Here are our previous Cup results against them:-

5th Qualifying round	9-12-1899	1-1	(A)
5th Qualifying round (R)	13-12-1899	4-1	(H)
5th Qualifying round	8-12-1900	0-3	(A)
5th Qualifying round	30-11-1901	0-2	(A)
3rd Qualifying round	1-11-1902	0-3	(H)
1st Round	30-11-1929	3-2	(A)
5th Round	7- 2-1948	3-1	(H)
4th Round	31- 1-1987	1-1	(A)
4th Round (replay)	4- 2-1987	2-1	(H)

I suppose that I can safely say, therefore, that we haven't lost to Luton in the FA Cup for over 85 years!

Statistics of course prove nothing but if you are a QPR supporter in recent years our successes come in fives, against Luton before we lose at home. We lost in 1948, then went five matches before visits to Kenilworth Road – our last win there was in January 1952.

One thing appears to be reasonably certain although we have only scored in two of our last seven visits to Kenilworth Road, we have only failed to score in one of the last 12 matches at Loftus Road that was on 4th

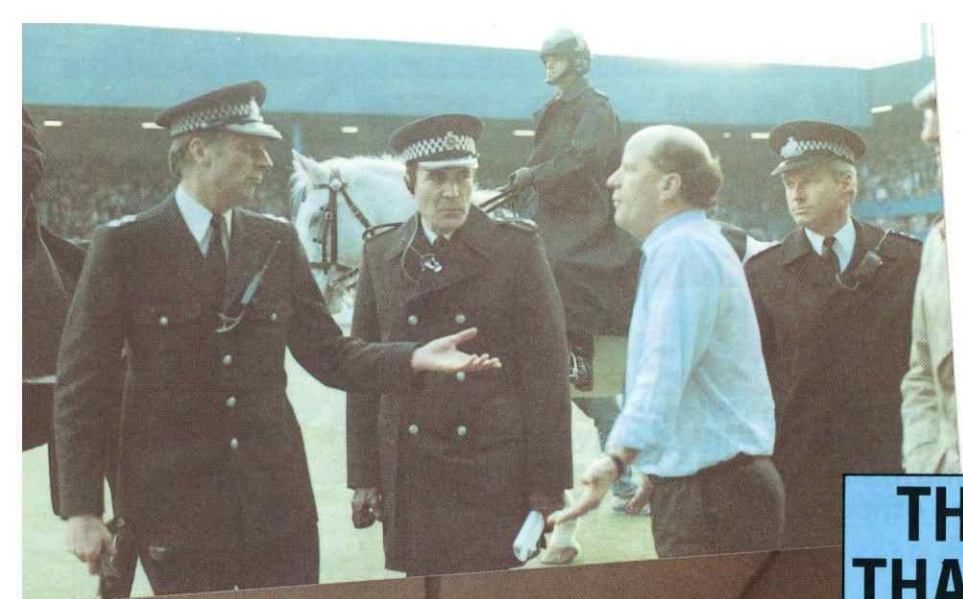

November 1983. We haven't failed to score in an FA Cup match at Loftus Road since January 1981, and haven't lost an FA Cup match here since January 1980 against Watford.

Up to, and including the Charlton match, we had only conceded one goal in the first half, in our last 15 matches at Loftus Road. It may also have escaped your notice that should we win today and get a draw at home in Round 6 we will be playing 6 consecutive home matches. I am sure James Condon will want to know if this has occurred before. Well I can tell you that it has mind you, I had to go back to 1903, when we started the 6 match home sequence with a 3-1 win against, guess who? Yes, Luton Town.

For my last statistic I shall now ensure an away victory today by telling you that QPR have never lost at home on February 20th. The details are:-

1904	v	FULHAM	1-1
1909	v	EXETER	1-1
1932	v	NORWICH	2-2
1954	v	NEWPORT	5-1
1960	v	TRANMERE	2-1
1971	v	HULL C.	1-1
1982	v	DERBY C.	3-0

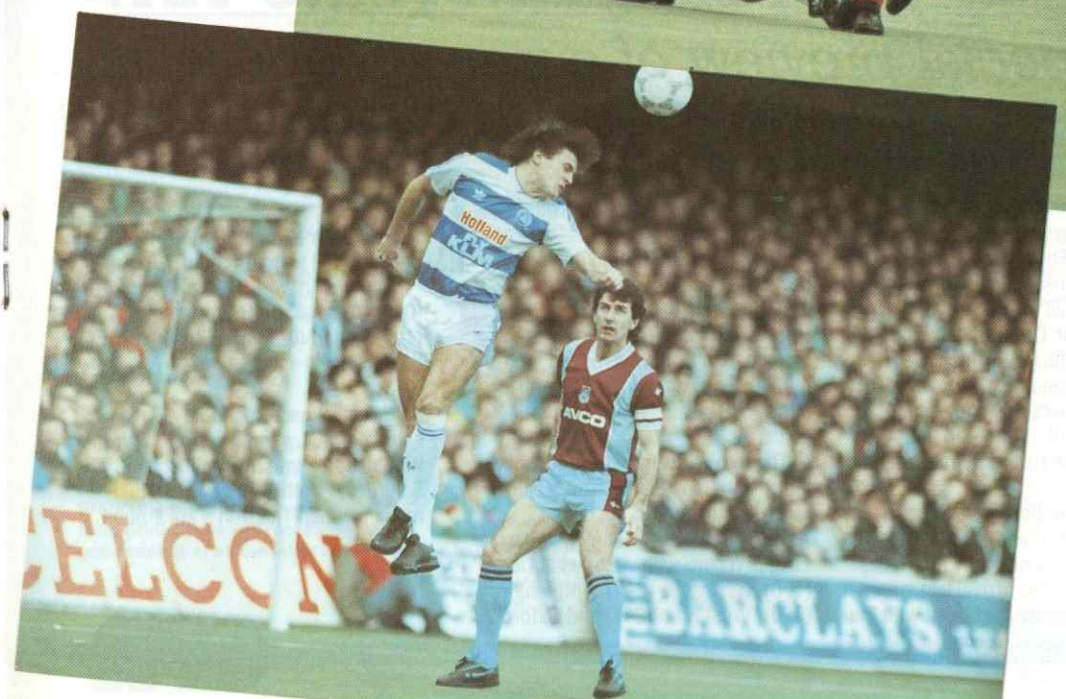

Finally, and you all know what is coming, it's "thank-you" time for the stamps yet again. Thank you to everyone who has sent them in but special thank you's to the Medical Place in Ewell and to the supporter who left that magnificent box of stamps. Keep it up everyone, you are doing a grand job!!

AS THE YEARS ROLL BY

Travel back in our Time Machine and discover what was happening to Rangers in past years.

5 YEARS AGO: Goals from John Gregory, Tony Sealey and Mike Flanagan gave us a 3-0 home win over Barnsley and lifted us to within a single point of Second Division leaders Wolves. Ⓞ Luton's First Division game against Birmingham was postponed. Ⓞ Second-half goals from Andy King and Graeme Sharp gave Everton a 2-0 victory over Spurs in the fifth round of the F.A. Cup at Goodison Park.

10 YEARS AGO: Martin Busby gave us the lead in our third round F.A. Cup tie against Nottingham Forest at The Bush. But, with only three minutes remaining, Martin O'Neill equalised. The tie went to a second replay, with Forest eventually winning 3-1. Ⓞ Luton's Second Division game against Spurs was postponed. Ⓞ There was high drama in the fifth round F.A. Cup tie at Wrexham where non-League Blyth Spartans led until the last minute. Then Dixie McNeil scored to give Wrexham a second chance which they took by winning the replay 2-1 at Newcastle.

15 YEARS AGO: Malcolm Macdonald gave us an interval lead in our fifth round F.A. Cup tie at W.B.A. Stewart Barrowclough and John Tudor added more after the break as the Magpies won 3-0. Ⓞ Luton crashed out of the Cup on their own ground. Two goals from Steve Earle plus singles from Frank Worthington and Keith Weller gave Leicester a 4-0 win. Ⓞ Nottingham Forest needed a Duncan McKenzie penalty to give them a 1-0 home win over Portsmouth. Ⓞ Billy Bremner gave Leeds an interval advantage at Bristol City but Keith Fear pulled one back to earn Bristol a replay. City pulled off the shock of the round by winning 1-0 at Elland Road when Don Gillies was their scoring hero.

20 YEARS AGO: Out of the F.A. Cup, we had a free Saturday. Ⓞ Alan Slough and Bruce Rioch both scored for Luton as they won 2-0 at Brentford in Division Four. Ⓞ Joe Royle and Johnny Morrissey got the goals which gave Everton a 2-0 fifth round victory over Merseyside rivals Tranmere Rovers at Goodison Park. Ⓞ Geoff Vowden's late-late goal earned Birmingham a 1-1 draw at Arsenal and two goals from Barry Bridges gave the Blues a 2-1 victory over the Gunners in the replay. Ⓞ Mick Jones and Peter Lorimer were on target as Leeds defeated Bristol City 2-0 at Elland Road.

25 YEARS AGO: Neither Rangers nor Luton had a game as most grounds were frozen. Ⓞ Ian St. John scored twice in Liverpool's 4-1 home win over Wolves whilst Arsenal won 3-2 at home to Bolton in First Division games. Ⓞ Most other matches were off.

February 27th
K.O. 3.00 p.m.

Is there to be no end to Wimbledon's wonderful achievements? The Dons rose from the Fourth to the First Division in four seasons and last season defied all the odds by finishing sixth in Division One and reaching the fifth round of the F.A. Cup.

This afternoon they are involved in another fifth round F.A. Cup tie – at Newcastle – and, if they win that, they will equal a club record by reaching the sixth round.

New Manager Bobby Gould, ably assisted by right-hand man Don Howe, may have introduced many new faces to the side since his arrival last summer but he has basically continued with the simple formula which has brought the club so much success.

One of many new signings this season was striker Terry Gibson, a £200,000 buy from Manchester United. But, when he was injured, the veteran Alan Cork was moved up from midfield to partner John Fashanu in attack. Fashanu is top scorer with 16 goals.

The Dons now have every chance of improving upon last season's club record sixth place in the table.

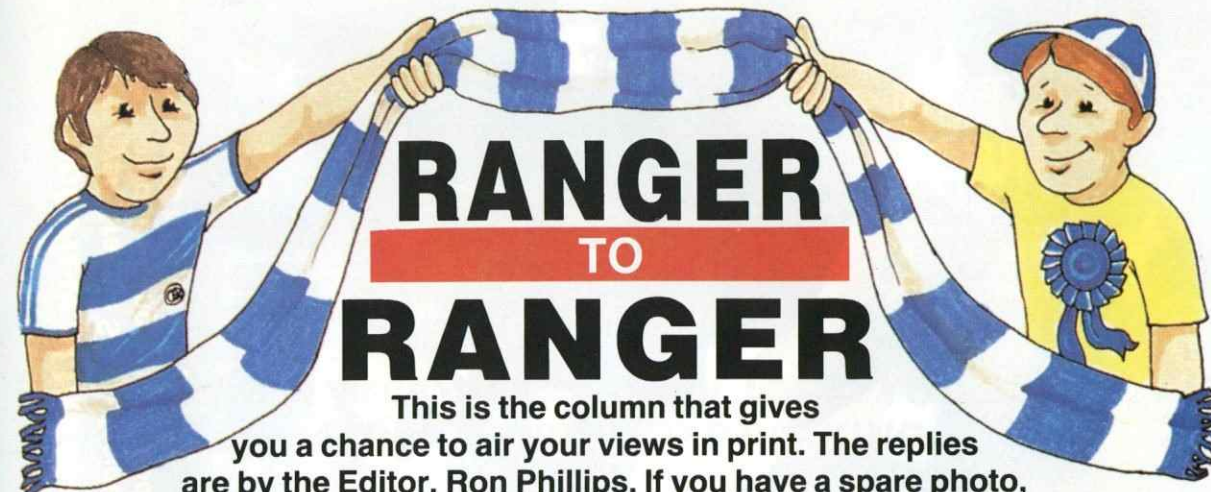

They have a particularly good away League record with victories at Derby (1-0), Newcastle (2-1), Tottenham (3-0), West Ham (2-1) and Oxford (5-2).

They drew at Coventry (3-3), Chelsea (1-1) and Charlton (1-1).

Wimbledon were beaten at Watford (0-1), Arsenal (0-3), Portsmouth (1-2), Luton (0-2) and Sheffield Wednesday (0-1).

We can expect Cup-tie style of entertainment when down-to-earth Wimbledon come to The Bush next Saturday. For there's never a dull moment when The Don's are around.

A Tribute to Gary Waddock

Dear Mr. Phillips,

Gary Waddock is one of a rare breed of players who will never be forgotten by anyone who saw him wear the blue and white hoops of Queens Park Rangers.

In addition to being a fine aggressive ball-winning midfielder, he was a player who had a special camaraderie with the fans.

While chasing fitness in the reserves, 'Waddo' would frequently chat to the crowd, encouraging them to make just a little bit more noise or clap a particularly good pass or tackle that he had made.

As he was stretchered past the Rangers fans after breaking his ankle at St. Andrews in 1984, they began chanting his name.

Many players, wrought with pain, would have, understandably, ignored them. Not Gary though, he still managed to give them a wave!

Waddock appeared in an F.A. Cup final and represented the Republic of Ireland, and everyone who cares not just about QPR, but football in general hoped that he would regain both his fitness and a first team place.

Sadly, even Gary Waddock could not win this battle.

He was the first Rangers player I have met – at a Guinness fete eight or nine years ago – and as his career at Loftus Road reaches a premature end, I would like to say, along with many others,

"All The Best Gary."

Yours Sincerely,

Chris Crane

★ So many Rangers supporters sent in tributes, to Gary that we were unable to print them all in the Testimonial Programme. We hope that this letter from Chris Crane will represent the good wishes of all the letter writers.

Dear Mr. Phillips,

I am writing this on behalf of a very good friend of mine HEIKO WOLF of West Germany, he and his brother JORG have been 1st class QPR supporters for over 12 years and have made so many trips to England I've lost count.

Heiko and Jorg have been supporters club members for many years, but they feel isolated being QPR fans in West Germany where the popular English support goes to the usual gang of Liverpool, Manchester United, Spurs etc.

What Heiko would like is for QPR fans in Holland, Belgium, West and East Germany, Austria and Switzerland to write to him with a view to setting up a continental branch of the OFFICIAL Supporters club.

What the CSC will do will depend on the response and ideas that come forth. The address to write to is:—

A match which took quite some time to warm up but Rangers never seemed to be in danger of forfeiting the points.

Charlton's chances of preserving their First Division status took another knock on the Loftus Road plastic surface yesterday, though they showed enough character to suggest they might avoid relegation.

Ironically, it was Falco, who might have joined Charlton from Glasgow Rangers at one stage this season, who began their destruction with a header just before half-time.

Rangers had seldom looked like penetrating up to that point in the match which often lapsed into aimless exchanges.

Falco's goal, his sixth for the club, should have put QPR in dominant mood for the second-half, but it was Charlton who impressed with their tireless running.

Johns kept Rangers' lead intact with a daring save from Jones a minute into the second-half. Jones was later replaced by Crooks, which may have been a tactical error by manager Lennie Lawrence.

Deprived of Jones' menace, Charlton battled on without producing much in the way of scoring attempts. QPR contained them neatly, with Parker and McDonald in commanding form, and never looked like being caught once they had extended their lead through Byrne, from a Bannister cross.

PRESS SAID...

Rangers started brightly but eventually seemed to lose their way in a game which was not up to its "Top-of-the-Table" billing.

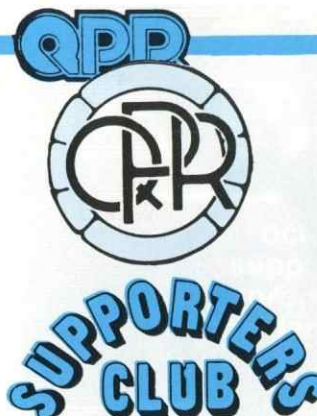

The match took so long to warm up that the first-half was largely an invitation to spectators to talk among themselves, until Everton accepted the gift of a bizarre own goal by Parker after 39 minutes.

Power's corner caused such alarm in the goalmouth that Parker, without an Everton player near enough to make a serious challenge, sliced the ball so wildly that it defied even Pizanti's attempt to prevent it crossing the line. At least it was some reward for Everton's endeavour after a hesitant start which would have produced a goal for Rangers but for Southall's athletic save from Bannister.

Johns had twice prevented Everton from scoring earlier through Reid and Watson, while Rangers were caught offside so often that not even the lively Bannister could make realistic headway. The linesman's flag was not so conspicuous in the second-half, largely because Everton monopolised the play, and Johns was forced to make another diving save from a header by Steven, by far Everton's most influential player.

There was a moment of relief for Rangers when in a break-away attack Allen's shot was met with a sprawling save by Southall. But it was a short-lived hope because after 70 minutes Rangers were unable to clear the ball from a packed penalty area, and Pointon threaded a shot through to leave Johns helpless.

LET THE FANS HAVE A WORD!

An occasional feature in which we invite Rangers supporters to send in their own material for the programme. If you want to submit entries for consideration, write to "Let The Fans Have A Word!", QPR F.C. Shepherds Bush, London W12 7PA.

Latest in this series comes from Jamie O'Brien (regular readers of this programme will be well aware of his tongue-in-cheek humour and will know what they are in for below!)

- It's been some years now since English clubs were banned from the three European Cup competitions. But if rumours are to be believed, there is a good chance we'll be back next season trying to bring the Champions, the Cup Winners and the UEFA Cups back where they belong. But in the intervening years, much has happened across the Channel and there are many new teams leading the way in Europe. In order to get you back in touch with what's going on, where and who, various contacts in European countries have been asked to send reports on their local situations and who they tip as dangers to Queens Park Rangers.

- Dmitri Obrnovski has sent this report on his local side. At the moment, Gulagrad (formerly Czarina) Park Rangers play in the Second Division of the Novosibirsk and District League, but since they introduced the concept of responsibility a few seasons back — namely, the players were responsible for winning... or else! — they have climbed through the divisions and had a couple of good Cup runs. Last year, they actually beat the hot favorites, KGB Rovers, to win the Komsomol Cup.

Manager Dimitri Smithovski, who only joined the club a couple of years ago, has totally rebuilt the side at the Salt Mine Stadium using home-grown talent and bargains exiled from the big city clubs. His tactics are as effective as they are simple.

"Glasnost" he explains. "Openness. We use wingers. In fact, I think we are probably the only side to use five wingers at the same time, which really does open the game up a bit." He admits however to having some problems with this system: "Especially as one of our wingers also doubles as goalkeeper. But we're working on it." Because of this style of play, there does tend to be a gap at the back. But looking on the bright side, the 'keeper does currently hold the record for the fastest hundred metre sprint in all of the eastern republics.

"As well as this 'glasnost'" continues Smithovski, "We mustn't forget our front man, Alexei Perry, transferred from Lubianka-Moscow last summer. He takes responsibility for goal scoring and is averaging a goal a game at present. Yes, centre forward Perry is very important for us — we call him our Perry Striker."

So far this season G.P.R. have led their League from day one and are unbeaten at home. Amongst their away successes is a great victory in the derby match against Omsk Alexandra shortly before the winter break when all the wingers were able to concentrate on their primary task as the defenders had built a four foot thick wall of snow in front of the goal.

Forget the famous team — your Moscow Batteries, Kiev Generators, Chernobyl Nuclearpowerplants — Gulagrad Park Rangers are the team to look out for.

- Piranha-Tirana, like most Albanian teams, is not very well known outside of this small country on the Adriatic. Before he recently disappeared, Xhamesh Obrn sent this report on the team:

Over the years, Piranha has appeared often in European Cup competitions but strangely has yet to play its first match. For example, the first time they qualified they were drawn against the world famous Moscow Batteries. They wouldn't play on ideological grounds even though the Muscovites insisted they played at Gorky Park.

Their next opponents the following season were Mousaka Athens, a team noted for its interesting combinations at set pieces when cooked at 375 F for at least 45 minutes. Sadly, the fixture coincided with a dispute between the two countries over how much cheese should be used by the Greek minority in Albania during the match — and the game was awarded to Mousaka when Piranha refused to play.

Similarly, disaster followed the next time they qualified, when a border dispute stopped the visiting Jugosalav team — Blue Star Belgrade (sponsored by a local car firm) — from entering the country. The match against Grenouilles Bordeaux was cancelled following some unfortunate remarks in the Elysee and when Piranha were drawn against Juventus, they refused to play because the Italians were better than them. Unfortunately, nothing is known about any of the players. As Xhamesh pointed out before he vanished, all facts about anything are classed as state secrets in the tiny republic. However, he did suggest, if we are ever drawn against this team, emphasis on the name of our team, particularly the first word, should ensure a smooth passage through to the next round.

- Will Liechtenstein finally be given a place in one of the European football competitions next season? If they are, then the team to represent them must be Vaduz Argyle (nickname: The Tax Havens; colours: gold bars on silver mail). The reason why this must be their representative team is in fact the same reason why the country has been banned by UEFA.

Up until about fifteen years ago, the Tax Havens languished in the lower regions of the Swiss 'Regional League III, List B, North-east Division 2, Group X10' (approximately the equivalent to me and my friends kicking a ball about after work on a Thursday evening on Shepherds Bush Green). It was felt that such a grand exclusive country deserved better.

Hence the creation of the Lichtenstein National Premier Super League. Unfortunately, the Tax Havens are the only team in the country — so they not only win the League and the Cup but also occupy the top three positions in the League and maintain they should qualify three times for the UEFA Cup as well as the Champions and the Cup Winners tournaments.

The European football authorities have not been overly impressed by these claims, especially as the side hasn't actually played a match since the founding of the League. Another major problem, should they ever qualify, would be the nightmare for programme editors in away matches as Liechtenstein is the most mis-spelt country in the world. Finally what would count most against them is their location — nobody actually knows exactly where Liechtenstein is. A UEFA delegation set out to visit them three years ago and was last seen clutching A to Zs against their chests just across the desert from Abu Dhabi. Even a team from neighbouring Switzerland had problems. They set off to play a friendly against them but were found drunk a week later in Vienna. Unfortunately their manager's reasoning snapped following a spirited send off and he boarded a train which had a town beginning with 'V' as its destination and he assumed through an alcoholic haze it stood for Vaduz.

Junior Rangers' Corner

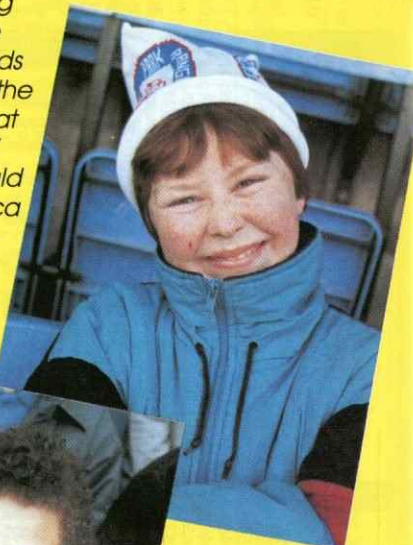

This spot in the Programme reserved for Young Fans!

by Mark Lee

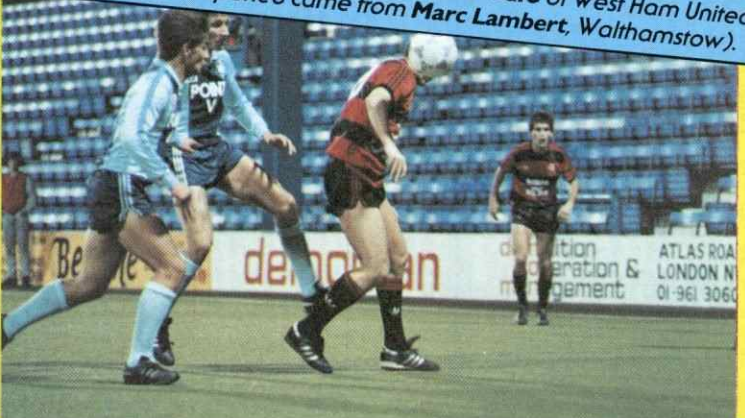

RANGERS SUPERKIDS

Our photographer wanders round the stadium at all home games snapping Rangers youngsters (specially in the Family Stand). We choose the 'Four Kids with the Happiest Smiles' to appear in the next programme and they win a great prize of a "I'm a Rangers Super Kid!" T-shirt. The lucky four (either side) should collect their prizes from the South Africa Road, Club Shop. And remember –

KEEP SMILING!

Can you identify the Rangers' player who has lost his head in this photo? Send your idea to "OFF WITH HIS HEAD!" QPR, F.C., Shepherd's Bush, London, W12 7PA. and the correct entry opened will win a prize of two complimentary tickets. (Last week's "OFF WITH HIS HEAD!" photo was Mark Ward of West Ham United and the first correct entry opened came from Marc Lambert, Walthamstow).

THE STORY OF A SOCCER SUPER STAK!

RICKIE ROCKETT

RICKIE IS FIT AGAIN AFTER A MOTO-CYCLE ACCIDENT – AND HE CELEBRATES BY SCORING 3 GOALS IN HIS FIRST F.A. YOUTH CUP GAME!

RICKIE IS ABOUT TO BE GIVEN THE MATCH BALL FOR HIS HAT TRICK

WHEN COACH MERRIDE ARRIVES BACK AND GRABS THE BALL BACK!

WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE? YOU WERE TOLD TO GET OUT OF THIS CLUB!

O.K. BUT IF RANGERS DON'T WANT ME, I'M NEVER GOING TO PLAY FOOTBALL AGAIN!

I'M GOING OFF TO SIGN FOR CHELSEA!

THE MANAGER ARRIVES BACK FROM BERLIN

WHAT'S THIS I HEAR ABOUT ROCKETT SCORING A HAT-TRICK FOR THE JUNIORS?

FORGET IT, BOSS! I SOON GOT RID OF HIM. HE'S GONE OFF TO SIGN FOR CHELSEA!

YOU LET A BOY LIKE THAT LEAVE RANGERS? YOU DIOT!

BUT HE'S A TROUBLE MAKER, BOSS!

THAT SORT OF TROUBLE I LIKE! HOW LONG HAS HE BEEN GONE? I'M GOING AFTER HIM!

RICKIE! COME ON BACK TO RANGERS! CHELSEA WOULDN'T KNOW HOW TO PLAY SOMEONE WHO SCORES GOALS!

HOLY HAT-TRICK! WILL I BE IN THE FIRST TEAM, BOSS?

SURE! IN TWO YEARS' TIME! RIGHT NOW, YOU'RE GOING INTO THE RESERVES, MY LAD!

SO RICKIE TAKES ANOTHER STEP UP THE LADDER OF SUCCESS. BUT THE MANAGER IS GOING TO BE PROVED VERY WRONG IN HIS PREDICTION OF TWO YEARS' WAIT FOR FIRST TEAM FOOTBALL.....
