Hatterbury spoils the party

LIKE perfectly-mannered guests at a Luncheon turned up at Ayresome Park on Sunday, but their hosts the occasional worry, but eventually left behind a present of three vital points.

They might not have been handed over willingly, but the day championship-winning Middleborough granted them from a team that did not want to be a match to withstand Borough's power play.

At least the Town did not cave in the way they did at Charlton, and for a brief moment in the second half there was even a hint of panic among the home fans as the Town's powerful attack threatened to embarrass the Premiership contenders after John Taylor had headed a shock equaliser.

But that lasted for only a few minutes, and Borough's storming approach to a game they had to win brought them the result they deserved.

The result might have matched the 5-1 thrashing the Town had administered at a Kenilworth Road earlier in the season, but Borough were profligate in front of goal, spraying a despatched penalty and a host of other chances.

The Town's approach was to try to defend well, pass their way out of trouble, and strike on the break.

The passing was OK for most of the game, but the other two elements were not. The attacking half was of powder-puff stuff against a team full of strength, hard running and fierce determination.

Trevor Peake and Marvin Johnson were exposed at the heart of defence too often for comfort, by the pace of Jan Agaj and Arthur John-Henry.

It was not until the second half that the middle created all sorts of problems for the visitors.

Des Linden and Richard Harvey stepped well on the flanks, but it was the pace of the Town's attack that passing their way from back to midfield.

David Preece got out change out of the defence, but it was not until John Taylor's final match at Ayresome Park.

THE EQUALISER ... John Taylor's header finds the net, with Middleborough's defence caught flat-footed and appealing in vain for outside. Middleborough's manager Bryan Robson is pictured inset.

he was replaced by Tony Thorpe for he last 10 minutes.

Luckily for the Town, Kevin Davis found himself in a desperate bid to equalise. Fortunately his volley from the edge of the penalty area was not a goal.

In attack, Taylor looked the only likely to succeed. Middleborough's defence was not as good as it seemed.

Sweet revenge for Borough

MANAGER David Preece enjoyed one short spell of hope at Ayresome Park, when the Town threatened the late stage of the game before the final whistle.

"We began to hold it for a short while, but then they scored the goal that killed us," he said.

The Town boss had blasted his players after completion of a week's hard work at the club, but the overall effect was that he did not do as well as he could have done.

Borough played against Ipswich, 37, needed a goal to win the game, and the Town's goal was the only one to count.
