

Bid to keep keeper is on

GOALKEEPER Ian

Feuer, who has become a big favourite with Kenilworth Road fans, has scored with the Luton Town management as well. And when his three-month loan from West Ham ends next month, a bid will go in to make his transfer permanent.

Prices have not been discussed yet, but the grapevine suggests West Ham will ask up to £500,000 for the 24-year-old American.

Town chairman David Kohler promised: "We want to keep him, and will do whatever must be done."

Asked if the club could afford £500,000, the chairman replied: "If that's the bottom line, yes."

In view of Juergen Sommer's valuation by QPR of £600,000 the Town will consider anything less than that a real bonus.

(Continued on page 55)

Ready to battle but still lacking the final bite

LUTON TOWN 0 BIRMINGHAM CITY 0

BARRY FRY, a manager who has almost forgotten what it is like to lose a football match, breezed out of Kenilworth Road on Saturday night wearing an ear to ear grin.

He had seen Birmingham City and Luton Town play a game which he thought was rubbish, yet the Blues had stretched their unbeaten run to 15 games.

For Luton boss Terry Westley it was another hard-won point, from a team that showed it is prepared to battle and scrap for survival - qualities which could keep him in his job.

But a packed Pressroom struggled to understand his claim that his shotless attack, the worst in the First Division, had created scoring opportunities.

(Continued on page 54)

CROWDED OUT (1): Dwight Marshall nips between two Birmingham City defenders, only to be closed down before he could fire off a shot.

CROWDED OUT (2): Vidar Riseth, looking for his first Luton Town goal, is foiled by Birmingham goalkeeper Ian Bennett.

INSIDE: Danger of move to Milton Keynes lessens - Taylor worth a million - Ancona think of ducking out of Luton visit

OUTRIGGER • OUTRIGGER • OUTRIGGER • OUTRIGGER

OUTRIGGER

Chevignon ♦ Urban Stone
Diesel ♦ Diesel Leather
Havton ♦ Gas

~ Also Stockists of ~ Female Gas & Diesel

OUTRIGGER

28 High Street South,
Dunstable
01582 477233

10% OFF WITH THIS AD!

OUTRIGGER • OUTRIGGER • OUTRIGGER • OUTRIGGER

9 770961 335817