

UNLUCKY CHAIRBOYS

03/04

Wycombe o Luton o

WYCOMBE deserved more but came away with a point after dominating the goalless draw at home to Luton.

Both sides were guilty of giving the ball away with the best chance falling to Nathan Tyson, who broke Luton's offside trap only to be denied by visiting keeper Morten Hyltdgaard.

Hyltdgaard was by far the busier of the two keepers with Luton creating little up front.

Luton came out stronger in the second half and Steve Howard tested Scott Bevan in the Wycombe goal with a far post header.

Enoch Showunmi should have done better for the visitors when through on goal, but Wycombe continued to dominate with Jermaine McSporran blasting over from close-range.

Manager Tony Adams claimed the Chairboys deserved better from their goalless draw with promotion-chasing Luton at the Causeway Stadium.

"It's frustrating at times because I feel the boys deserved the three points," Adams said.

"They are putting in some great performances and it would be nice if they can turn those performances into results, but it's not meant to be at the moment.

"It was lovely to keep a clean sheet because Luton are very direct. Roger Johnson did well alongside Stuart Nethercott and the full backs are improving.

"We saw it through well. The players are giving me all they've got and that's all as a manager you can ask for."

Luton boss Mike Newell was disappointed with his team's performance especially after winning their previous two league games.

"I'm not at all happy. We felt we could come here and get something considering the way we've been playing and especially after last Tuesday night's performance against Brighton," he said.

"We can make all sorts of excuses for the way we've played, particularly in midfield, we couldn't put a pass together, couldn't keep the ball and didn't look forward enough.

"If you don't get the ball forward then you are going to make it very difficult to hurt teams."
