HULL remain bottom of the Championship after a goalless draw at home to Luton.

The hosts had two good chances within the space of six minutes to take the lead.

Jon Parkin should have firstly done better with an unconvincing drive which Marlon Beresford saved with his legs, while Danny Mills' effort was cleared off the line.

Luton boss Mike Newell's game plan nearly unravelled after 67 minutes when Ian Ashbee's aimless punt up front bounced high into the visitors' penalty box.

Beresford's dithering let Parkin clear on goal but the Hull forward sliced the ball onto the top of the crossbar.

The Luton goalkeeper came to his side's rescue late in the game after firstly parrying Mills' thumping free kick and then smothering Ryan France's close-range follow-up.

Hull looked to have won it minutes later when Stuart Elliott had the ball in the back of the net but referee Graham Laws spotted a foul on Leon Barnett and disallowed it.
