Taiwo Atieno Striker Taiwo joined the Town in March 2010 originally on a short-term deal. He was offered a new contract in September and scored his first goal in a win over Bath. A further six goals followed, including a brace against Corby in the FA Cup. He was released in February 2011 and joined Stevenage where he played just once.

Rocky Baptiste Rocky signed for the Hatters in October 2000 after his form for Hayes caught the eye of Ricky Hill. The tall and skilful striker made only three substitute appearances before moving back to Hayes on loan in March 2001. He went on to a further 13 non-league clubs, including Stevenage, before retiring in 2013.

David Preece A much-missed legend at Kenilworth Road, hugely talented midfielder David joined the Town from Walsall in 1984. He helped the Hatters win the League Cup in 1988 and went onto make 395 appearances in Luton colours before joining Derby in 1995. Sadly passed away aged just 44 in 2007.

Phil Gray Northern Ireland international Phil started his career at Tottenham before he joined the Hatters in 1991 for £275,000. Departed for Sunderland two years later but after playing in France and the Netherlands, he returned to Kenilworth Road in 1997. Across his two spells he netted 53 times in 161 appearances.

Scott Houghton Hitchin-born winger came through the academy at Tottenham, scoring twice against the Town in the top-flight. Joined the Hatters in 1993 but found first-team opportunities difficult, making just 22 appearances before moving to Walsall in 1994. Ended his career with Stevenage after spells with Peterborough, Southend and Orient.

Sean Evers Sean came through the Town academy, making his debut in 1996. A box-to-box, all-action midfielder, Sean came to prominence during our run to the quarter-finals of the League Cup in 1998/99. In March 1999 the Hatters accepted a £500,000 bid from Reading after seven goals in 69 games. Spent a spell on loan at Stevenage in 2002.

Welcome

Good afternoon and Happy New Year from us all at Kenilworth Road.

We return to home soil after our New Year's Day disappointment at Exeter, aiming to return to the type of form that saw us win both of our home fixtures at the end of 2025 against Wycombe and Leyton Orient.

We welcome Stevenage to these parts who make the short trip hoping to continue their excellent season to date. Alex Revell's side have been among League One's most consistent performers all season and showed us back in October just how much of a threat they are.

As we take to the pitch in 2026 for the first time here, please get behind the players once again and we look forward to seeing you here on Tuesday, against Swindon, and again next Saturday when we entertain another promotion-chasing side in Lincoln.

Enjoy the game.

Come on Luton!

"I FELT IN THE SECOND HALF AGAINST ORIENT, WE HAD A BIT MORE OF THAT HARDENED MENTALITY. ONE WHERE YOU SAY 'OKAY WE'RE GOING TO SUFFER AT TIMES', AND WHERE YOU ROLL YOUR SLEEVES UP AND DEAL WITH IT.

THE BOSS

Jack WILSHERE

Good afternoon, happy New Year, and welcome back to Kenilworth Road for this League One fixture with Stevenage.

Since my last programme notes that weren't affected by the Christmas printing deadlines, we have picked up six points from the last three games, winning twice here against Wycombe and Leyton Orient over Christmas before we headed to Exeter on New Year's Day.

I was incredibly impressed with the way we secured those home victories. We spoke after the Reading game about having a mentality shift of a good performance, but we felt we needed to win and against Wycombe we did that and did it in style. After that game we knew the importance of back-to-back victories in order to start building momentum and we did that with a very good display, especially in the first half, against Orient.

In the Orient game I thought we were excellent. Our decision-making around when to play and how to play was exactly what we wanted. We took our goals at important times, and I was very happy with that.

It was frustrating, therefore, that this positivity was lost at Exeter on New Year's Day. We certainly did not envisage such a disappointing start to 2026. A big thank you to those of you who travelled. Despite the result your backing and loyalty was appreciated.

As I've said before, you need a different mentality when you go away from home. I thought we started the game and we took control, took the game to them and arrived in some dangerous areas. Then we allowed them to build a little bit of momentum by playing long balls which we didn't deal with well enough.

It was of course disappointing, but we must remember the players gave a lot of energy in the games over the festive period, including the Reading game. It's tough in this league and sometimes you just need to find a way. I felt in the second half against Orient, we had a bit more of that hardened mentality. One where you say 'okay we're going to suffer at times', and where you roll your sleeves up and deal with it.

I made five changes at Exeter as we tried to freshen things up but I also understand it's not easy for players to just come in and perform, especially when you don't really have that much training time in this period.

We have watched it back and it's frustrating to see where we couldn't quite find our rhythm and why we could not deal with their aerial threat. Exeter was disappointing, make no mistake, but today gives us another opportunity to bounce back and continue our excellent recent form here at Kenilworth Road.

Stevenage will provide a stern test. Alex has done a terrific job this season and they are hard to beat and play against. They won at Stockport last month and ran Cardiff very close over Christmas – results which show we need to take them very seriously this afternoon.

Please get behind us this afternoon. Your support makes all the difference, especially here at Kenilworth Road.

We want to continue to make this place a fortress and an intimidating place for the opposition to come.

Enjoy the game.

BOARDROOM

Tom SCHOFIELD

Welcome back everybody to Kenilworth Road, and a happy New Year to you all as we play our first match here in 2026.

We find ourselves just over halfway through the season and looking forward to an early kick-off against our near-neighbours Stevenage.

It's fair to say our opponents have been one of the surprise packages of this campaign so far, as their league position attests, but we start today's fixture with the opportunity to leapfrog them with a win.

That might be easier said than done though, as they showed us in the reverse fixture back in October. Their grit and determination proved too much for us that afternoon and, although we didn't fall behind until relatively late in the game, we never really showed what we are capable of in that match, and it was a disappointing day for all Hatters fans.

However, I hope we can all get behind Jack, Chris and team today, crank up the atmosphere and make this old place the intimidating place it so often is for visiting teams.

Of course, the players also need to play their part and can do so by building on their recent good performances at home. The team had started to show some real quality during the festive period with successive 4-0 and 3-0 wins over Wycombe and Leyton Orient.

So, to follow those encouraging displays with the defeat at Exeter was frustrating for everyone, as we failed to find the sort of consistency we will need through the second half this season if we are to succeed with our promotion ambitions. Clearly there were extenuating circumstances, with injury and illness robbing Jack of several key players, but he will be as determined as anyone to see a response and three more points today.

Off the field, my finance team have just completed the 2024/25 audit, and our accounts will show another profitable year with all profits reinvested in the business. The long-term strategy remains to succeed on the pitch, but we are nearing the point where full funding will be in place to move that pitch to Power Court for the start of the 2028/29 season.

Transfer windows are always a busy time at the club, with the recruitment team working tirelessly to identify players that can improve us. However, clearly this will need to be balanced with departures to keep the wage bill on budget. The first of these has already been announced, with Lasse Nordås leaving us to join Heerenveen on loan. We all wish him every success in the Dutch Eredivisie.

We also welcomed Ethon Archer into the building for the first time since his arrival on deadline day in the summer. Ethon continued his development at Cheltenham and we're excited to see the next steps in his career now fully integrated with the squad here. Finally, just before we went to print, we have also agreed a loan deal with Manchester City for exciting young forward Emilio Lawrence and are all looking forward to seeing what he can do over the second half of the season.

S1 Luton v Stevenage.indd 6 08/01/2026 16:20

Here's to seeing more celebrations like this at Kenilworth Road this afternoon

For us the winter window is a time for cautious optimism and sensible business. As always, we remain open to good value acquisitions, but we must keep in mind that we have several key players due to return from injury during this same period. The likes of Elijah Adebayo, Ali Al-Hamadi, Isaiah Jones and Hakeem Odoffin are all capable of cementing a place in the matchday squad but have yet to have the opportunity this season. By the end of this window, we remain confident that we will have a squad more than capable of promotion from this division at the end of the season.

With Christmas now behind us, we are busy compiling our financial results for the half-year to date. This work will conclude at the end of January, and we will then turn our attention to updating our long-term business plan once the transfer window has closed.

A key part of this plan relies on the unwavering support of you, our loyal supporters. In League One, and indeed the Championship, gate receipts remain a key >> >> source of revenue for football clubs, and we are fortunate that ours, as always, remain strong. These levels of support and loyalty continue to give us confidence and belief that our strategy for Power Court is the right one, where we will see many more supporters, especially families, attending week in, week out, at our new home.

We never have, and never will, take this loyal support for granted and we recognise that it is a two-way street. However, with the supporters fully behind us and the team responding as we know they are capable, Kenilworth Road can be a truly intimidating place for any opposition, at any level, to play football – and we hope the same will be said at Power Court too – and louder!

I hope today, at Kenilworth Road, we will recreate, and build on, the sort of atmosphere that helped us sweep aside the last two teams to visit here. Togetherness is crucial and when we're harmonious we can make life difficult for anyone.

Join me in getting behind the lads this afternoon.

S1 Luton v Stevenage.indd 10 08/01/2026 11:09

THE CAPTAIN

Kal NAISMITH

First of all, I'd like to wish everyone a very happy New Year. I hope you've all enjoyed the festive period and are ready for what we believe can be a really special year for us all.

There's a real feeling around the place that 2026 is one we can celebrate together, and that sense of togetherness is something we as players are determined to keep striving towards every single day.

It's great to be back at Kenilworth Road once again, and even better that we're starting a run of three consecutive home games here. We know how much playing at the Kenny means to you, and we feel it just as strongly as players.

Today's game against Stevenage is the first in what is a big and important run for us, and it's one we're really looking forward to.

We know how much disappointment there was after the result at their place earlier in the season and the lads have been in this week with one focus – getting a positive result and kick-starting a strong run.

January and February are massive months in any season and for us they present a huge opportunity to push on, get ourselves right in the mix and be properly involved where we want to be. As we have seen, momentum can change quickly in this division, and home games like this can be the foundation.

Our recent home form gives us plenty to be positive about. In our last two games here against Wycombe and Leyton Orient we've scored seven goals and kept two clean sheets. Kenilworth Road is starting to feel like it should again – a real fortress, somewhere that's hard for teams to come and get anything. The way the lads have approached those games, both defensively and going forward, has been excellent and it's something we're determined to keep building on, starting again this afternoon.

That belief inside the dressing room is huge. To score freely and concede nothing shows what we're capable of when everything clicks, and now it's about maintaining those standards and continuing that run at home. We know Stevenage will come here organised and competitive, but we'll be ready for the challenge.

I'd also like to welcome Ethon Archer to the club. He's an exciting young player with a great attitude, and I know he's really looking forward to getting going here. I've no doubt you'll make him feel the love and help him settle quickly, as you always do with all new players.

At the same time, we wish Lasse all the very best after heading out on loan. A run of games will be really good for him and we're confident the big man will come back a better, stronger player.

Despite the result at Exeter, there's a real positivity around the place right now. We're together, we're backing each other, and with you right behind us it makes a massive difference. Bring the noise and help us make our home a tough place to come once more.

Let's make it a great year.

Eamonn is here today celebrating with us. We hope you have a fantastic afternoon with us!

We'd also like to wish a very happy 10th birthday to young Hatter Ronnie! Love from Mum, Dad and Frankie.

SQUAD MOVEMENTS

Striker Lasse Nordås has joined Dutch top-flight club SC Heerenveen on loan until the end of the season.

The 23-year-old Norwegian signed for the Hatters last January from Tromsø and made 10 appearances in the Championship.

He scored his first goal for the club in the 3-0 League One win at Burton Albion in August, and in total has netted four times in 17 appearances in all competitions this term.

Lasse joins up with the side who currently sit ninth in the Eredivisie table ahead of the resumption of the Dutch season next weekend following their winter break.

Meanwhile, attacker Ethon Archer, who signed on deadline day from Cheltenham, has returned to Kenilworth Road after his loan spell at Whaddon Road came to an end.

It's the same for Taylan Harris following his loan at Tranmere, while Under-21 pair Jack Lorentzen-Jones and Oli Lynch have rejoined Hemel Hempstead and Tamworth respectively on loan.

FOOTBALL FOR A FIVER ON TUESDAY!

Tickets are now on sale as Football for a Fiver returns for the Hatters' Vertu Trophy Round of 16 tie against Swindon Town at Kenilworth Road next Tuesday.

As has been the case for the three home games in the competition so far, admission for the fixture with the League Two promotion chasers is being priced to encourage as many families to attend, with kids in for a quid for the earlier-than-usual kick-off time of 7pm.

This fixture will be reserved seating initially in the Main Enclosure and Main Stand A to E. Tickets can be booked online, by phone or in person during advertised opening hours.

SPONSORSHIP & HOSPITALITY

Welcome to Kenilworth Road for the first time this year as we entertain Stevenage and a happy New Year to all our sponsors and partners as we welcome 2026.

We now turn our attention to the second half of the season with sponsorship and hospitality opportunities available between now and May.

A popular package so far has been hospitality in the Eric Morecambe Lounge where pre- and post-match, members of the first team squad are interviewed on stage.

Jacob Brown did the honours at our last game here against Leyton Orient, while before our Boxing Day game with Wycombe, Jake Richards, Kal Naismith and Jordan Clark popped in for a chat.

If you are interested in matchday hospitality or any other sponsorship opportunity between now and the end of the season, please get in touch with us by calling 01582 411622 or emailing commercial@lutontown.co.uk.

Finally, we'd like to welcome guests from KDW as our match sponsors this afternoon. We hope you have a great time with us today.

STEVENAGE

The Hatters welcome Stevenage to Kenilworth Road who are making the short journey from Hertfordshire.

Boro have had an excellent season so far and currently sit just shy of the play-off places with a number of games in hand over the sides above them.

So far this season, Alex Revell's side have exceeded expectations and are well in the play-off chase at the halfway point of the season. The Boro had an electric start to the season, winning eight of their first 10 matches.

However, since then things have tailed off slightly for Stevenage who have won just twice in the league since the start of November.

Jamie Reid in particular has enjoyed a strong campaign so far, scoring eight goals in 20 games played, making him Stevenage's top scorer.

Recent results have seen Stevenage slip from the top three down to seventh, however, an away win against Stockport was the highlight of what was a frustrating December for Boro.

This afternoon the Town will be aiming to avenge the 2-0 defeat at Broadhall Way back in October.

Hatters teams in the past have found it tough against Boro down the years. Since 2015/16 the Town have managed just one win in eight meetings, losing four of those.

But Boro fans will not want to be reminded of their last visit to Kenilworth Road. In October 2017 Nathan Jones's side ran out 7-1 winners with Luke Berry scoring a perfect hat-trick.

A warm welcome to Kenilworth Road to all those associated with Stevenage.

HATTERS versus BORO

Historic meetings between the clubs down the years

NOVEMBER 2002

CROATIAN SENSATION!

A six-minute hat-trick from Ahmet Brkovic saw the Town edge out Stevenage at Broadhall Way in this EFL Trophy tie. A Kevin Nicholls own goal put Boro in front but the Hatters levelled thanks to Tony Thorpe's strike. Boro restored their lead but Bkrovic netted his first on 54 minutes to make it 2-2. The Croatian then hit twice more in quick succession to put us 4-2 up before a late Stevenage consolation.

APRIL 2010

OHHH MATTHEW BARNES-HOMERRR

In 2009/10 the Town made it eight Conference wins on the spin at Stevenage to move within two points of Boro with a 1-0 victory at Broadhall Way. Matthew Barnes-Homer scored the Hatters' winner within a minute of his introduction as a second-half substitute in front of 2,800 travelling Town fans. Boro came into the game unbeaten in 11 matches but would go on and secure the title. The Hatters would lose to York in the play-offs.

MAY 2015

A WIN THAT WASN'T ENOUGH ▼

The Hatters went into this League Two clash – in their first season back in the Football League following promotion from the Conference – needing a win and an eight-goal swing to gatecrash the play-offs on the final day. John Still's side secured a 2-0 win thanks to goals from Mark Cullen and a second before half-time from Michael Harriman had them in control. However, Plymouth's win over Shrewsbury meant the Town had to settle for an eighth-place finish.

OCTOBER 2017

SEVENTH HEAVEN ▲

The Hatters fizzed like a can of 7-Up at Kenilworth Road beating Stevenage 7-1 to make it seven matches unbeaten in their seventh home game of the season. The result, in which Luke Berry scored a perfect head-left foot-right-foot hat-trick, also saw Danny Hylton net twice to join James Collins at the top of the club's scoring charts on seven goals. On a landmark day, the victory – capped off by a first goal at Kenilworth Road for James Justin and an injury-time strike by substitute Luke Gambin – was the 1,000th home win since the Hatters were formed in 1885.

AUGUST 2021

LEAGUE CUP EXIT

The Hatters exited the Carabao Cup at Stevenage, losing 3-0 on penalties after an entertaining 2-2 draw in which Cameron Jerome and Admiral Muskwe netted their first goals for the club to twice peg Stevenage back. Having twice come from behind to force penalties, the Town couldn't net from 12 yards with Harry Cornick, Carlos Mendes Gomes and Dion Pereira all missing their kicks to send Boro through.

DUST YOURSELF DOWN AND GO AGAIN

Young defender Joe Johnson says the Town have no choice but to pick themselves up after defeat in Devon

Academy graduate Joe Johnson believes the quick turn-around of fixtures will allow the squad to bounce back quickly following the Town's 1-0 New Year's Day defeat against Exeter City.

Speaking after the full-time whistle at St James Park, the defender urged fans to support the squad through the busy fixtures.

"I thought the performance was quite good, I thought we had some good moments and in the last three games we have shown that we have the capacity to play good football and to hurt teams, it was unfortunate it didn't come off today," said the 19-year-old.

"It's obviously a tough league and you can get punished in some moments, anyone can beat anyone and there are so many games. You have to dust yourself off and go again, these fixtures come at you fast and you have to be ready, it'll be the teams that take those knocks and get back up that progress in this league."

Having started the last three matches in a row for the Hatters, Johnson spoke about how he feels he is progressing under Jack and Chris and also alluded to the midfielder skills he possesses having joined the club in a midfield position.

"It's still the start of my career, I am still learning things," he says. "I feel like I am getting into the groove and I am starting to express myself and now I just want to earn more starts and keep that going.

"I originally came to this academy as a number eight, I have that sort of midfield style in me, so it's great that the gaffer can see that I fit his style and that he trusts me."

With three consecutive home games scheduled in the space of a week, including Stevenage this afternoon, high-flying Lincoln visiting Kenilworth Road next weekend and the Vertu Trophy third round against Swindon Town sandwiched in-between, it is clear that opportunities will present themselves for Johnson and the rest of the squad to get back to winning ways after the defeat in Devon.

Getting the fans OFF THEIR SEATS

Shayden Morris is enjoying playing at Kenilworth Road after two goals in as many home matches over Christmas

Exciting winger Shayden Morris is looking to add to his goal tally after scoring in back-to-back games in front of the Hatters faithful.

Having notched in the win over Wycombe, on Boxing Day, and against Leyton Orient three days later, the former Aberdeen winger spoke of his delight to finally showcase his abilities to the supporters after enduring time out of the side with injury.

"When I came to the club, I said I wanted to score goals and get assists, I am happy to add goals to my game and obviously to get the win," says the 24-year-old.

"I want to excite the fans and get them off their seats, I want to have fun as well – of course I am proud just to be on the pitch, obviously I had that little injury and it took some time to get back and improve my fitness which I am still working on."

Following his performances over the festive period, Morris was also keen to address the squad depth at the club, emphasising that places in the starting eleven would be even more valuable when other players return to fitness.

S1 Luton v Stevenage.indd 30 08/01/2026 10:46

"It is really good," he says. "There's a lot of quality in the team and on the bench as well, you always know that there is someone behind you and that there are players out injured who are coming back.

"It shows how competitive the squad is, it pushes us in training and it pushes us on the pitch, that's why when you get your shirt you've got to earn it and keep it.

"I think after the Boxing Day win we came in the next day with a spring in our step, we're buzzing because, while it is Christmas time and you want to be with your family, if you're in and your winning games it makes it better and of course when you go back-to-back with wins it really helps."

With another set of tricky home fixtures on the way for the Town, who currently sit just outside the play-off places in League One, Morris was keen to outline the players promotion hopes ahead of the visit of Stevenage this afternoon.

"We've got a target to get promoted, it's all well and good that we're winning and doing well right now but we're still focusing on getting into the play-offs, then we need to look at getting into the automatic spots, we came to Luton to win."

"I WANT TO EXCITE THE FANS AND GET THEM OFF THEIR SEATS, I WANT TO HAVE FUN AS WELL.

THE VIEW FROM THE PRESS BOX

The Luton News' Mike Simmonds looks ahead to the January transfer window

It rolls round quickly doesn't it, but it's that time of year again for rumours, speculation and klaxons, as the January transfer window is now open once more.

Traditionally, clubs don't like to do a lot of business in the winter, citing a lack of value for money with other teams able to up the price tag for their players knowing just how desperately they are wanted by those who have come calling.

Although Town have often not looked to bolster their ranks that often at this time of year, when previously they probably could have – think back to the Premier League campaign when only Daiki Hashioka was a first team addition – that all changed last term when it wasn't just on the pitch they had to recruit, but off it too.

Milli Alli arrived at Kenilworth Road during the last winter transfer window

In fact was 12 months to the day yesterday that manager Rob Edwards left the club, which meant that the Luton hierarchy were not only looking at players, but also in the dug-out – something they did quickly when appointing Matt Bloomfield.

They then looked to splash the cash in a bid to stay in the Championship, with Izzy Jones, Thelo Aasgaard, Christ Makosso, Lasse Nordås and Milli Alli all joining for undisclosed fees. There were also the loan additions of Kal Naismith and Josh Bowler too.

Alas it didn't work, with the Hatters ultimately dropping out of the division on the final day of the season, which led to an incredibly busy summer window with double figures in terms of both arrivals and exits.

However, things have not gone to plan once more, which saw Bloomfield depart and Jack Wilshere replace him a few months back, as he now embarks on his first transfer window as a permanent manager.

Having had time to assess his squad, and with Luton four points away from the play-offs at time of writing, then it's safe to assume he will be looking to begin making his own imprint on the squad as he targets the top six finish which has been deemed the very minimum this year.

Winger Ethon Archer is back in Bedfordshire from his loan with Cheltenham, so will no doubt be assessed before the best path for him is decided, while space is starting to be made for new additions, with striker Nordås heading out on loan to Dutch side Heerenveen.

Wilshere has already spoken about adding more threat to his side following a shot-shy effort at Exeter City on New Year's Day, and you'd like to think the manager's reputation following his stellar career as a player will count for something when it comes to persuading his targets to make Kenilworth Road their next destination.

We'll find out soon enough!

LUTON TOWN SUPPORTERS' TRUST

The Trust Interviews...

Paul Benson Academy Manager

Paul Benson was a key member of the famous John Still team who took us back to the Football League from our exile in the Conference – making 38 appearances and chipping in with 18 goals as the Town cruised to 102 goals and 101 points, finishing 19 clear of our nearest rivals! 'Benno' played for us over three seasons, returning after two seasons away to become part of the Academy set up which he now manages.

We started by asking him about his background, his career and what brought him back to Luton Town...

I was born in Southend and came through their academy, but was released as a scholar and found my way through non-league to Dagenham & Redbridge. That's where my career really began, with promotion from the National League to League One, then on to Charlton – where I played under Chris Powell – and Swindon, with loan moves to Portsmouth, Cheltenham...and Luton, initially on loan and then signing permanently. I had three fantastic seasons here before going back to Dagenham and then Bedford Town. While I was with Bedford, I started doing a bit of part time coaching with the Under-13s at Luton. Andy Awford was Academy Manager then. I knew him from my Portsmouth days, and he suggested I join as a coach – I had made my mind up to go in that direction in my later playing days and had done my B Licence as I learned the coaching trade. I'd also played under some great managers and picked up a lot from them. Andy offered me a full-time job with the Under-16s and then the Under-18s. I worked my way through the Academy under him, then Paul Hart, doing pretty much every role, eventually becoming Head of Coaching. Then, when Paul left, I was appointed interim Academy Manager before getting the post permanently – and I've been in this role for coming up to three years now.

Could you tell us about the structure of the Academy please?

We're currently a Category 3 Academy under the Elite Player Performance Plan (EPPP) system, which was introduced in 2012 and has four levels. We're at the third. Our vision – and it's an 'infinite' or ongoing one – is to be the very best in whatever category we're in. In many ways we're already set up for Category 2. As James Mooney alluded to in his Trust interview, we're waiting on a few things regarding that, but in the meantime, I want to make us the best we can be at our level, and we have plenty of support for that from the Board in creating the environment, staffing and coaching quality to fulfil that purpose.

> "WE'RE LOOKING AFTER ABOUT 160 PLAYERS, SO THE ACADEMY IS QUITE A BIG OPERATION – AND GROWING, AS WE LOOK TO DEVELOP MORE OF OUR OWN-GROWN PLAYERS FOR THE FIRST TEAM.

On the coaching side, we have three phases. Foundation is Under-9 to Under-12, Youth Development Under-13 to Under-16 and Professional Development Under-17 to Under-21. My thinking as I developed in coaching, was that if I was ever in charge I would have more coaches having more contact time with the players, with a full-time lead coach to supervise and manage each phase. And that's what we're doing, so the players coming through will have more elite coaching.

We're looking to evolve that further too. Jack Ainsworth is our lead coach for our Under-9/Under-10 cell, Phil Payne for our Under-11s/Under-12s cell, Ollie Modeste runs our Under-13/Under-14 cell with Jack Cartwright responsible for our Under-15/Under-16 cell, and each of them has some great coaches working within their age groups, several of whom have come to us from the Community Trust.

S2 Luton v Stevenage.indd 36 08/01/2026 10:45

Then into the professional development phase you've got Joe Deeney for the Under-18s, with Ronnie Henry assisting him, and Alex Lawless heading up the Under-21s. I oversee it all, with Wayne Turner helping me. He was Academy Manager when I was a player with Luton and I wanted to bring him in as a sort of mentor, with his experience and knowledge. He comes in two days a week and is fantastic to work with. I believe that no other academy at our level offers better coaching, or creates a better environment for players to develop. We're constantly looking to build on that as part of our intention to be the category-leading youth academy.

For instance, some academies have a full-time Head of Education, which enables them to have hybrid coaching programmes where players come in and have their education on site and can train for the day too. I'm pushing for that, so we can have day releases for the Under-16s as well as for the professional development phase.

So there's more to the Academy than just the coaching side, then?

Yes, you've got coaching, sports science and medical, analysis, safeguarding, player care, administration, recruitment and education. All in all we've currently got 22 full-time staff, and 15 to 20 who work on a part-time basis. We're looking after about 160 players, so the Academy is quite a big operation – and growing, as we look to develop more of our own-grown players for the first team. They – and their parents – can see a pathway to that goal, illustrated by recent successful examples. Joe Johnson and Zack Nelson as first team squad regulars, and recent debutants like Christian Chigozie, Harry Fox and Fin Evans, who became our youngest ever scorer on his debut.

What is the ethos of the Academy?

We have a set of values we live by. 'A Luton Town individual (that's all of us, not just the players) is hardworking and humble, with a winning mentality. They are respectful, honest, disciplined and committed to creating an elite environment for all'.

That value statement ends by saying it is non-negotiable. And it is.

Let me give you some examples. Respectful – whenever they see a member of staff, our young players are expected to shake their hands and say good morning or good afternoon, or good evening. To look them in the eye and show respect – and that works both ways of course. We respect them as individuals. We ask them to be disciplined too, and honest. If they make a mistake – and we all do – to own it and be accountable. You're forgiven a lot easier if you're honest about mistakes you make.

And humble: that's a big one. All of the scholars ball-boy for the seniors' games. Fin Evans scored on his debut, but ball-boyed for the first team on Boxing Day. Christian did too, the week after his debut. We want to keep them grounded, and humble. To appreciate the opportunities they're getting and understand they have to work for them. In the morning, they must put their phones in before they go out to train. No distractions: respect and focus on what you're doing. We want to create an environment where they understand how special it is to play football and don't take it for granted. That's really important for me, that they understand every appearance they make is special and they should not take it for granted or get carried away with it.

On the same basis, we don't like to give them too much, too soon. >>

Christian Chigozie all smiles after his full debut at Coventry earlier this season

S2 Luton v Stevenage.indd 37 08/01/2026 10:45

We want to reward them with professional contracts when they've earned them, but we don't want them getting carried away with themselves with excessive amounts of money. Everything has to be earned by living out our values – and the reward is a career that millions dream of.

We have excellent facilities but we don't go overboard and provide them with too much. Our pitches are good, for instance, but not to the level of the first team – though our scholars get to train with the seniors at times and experience that too. We think there's a sweet spot to be hit and I think our Academy facilities do that. The young players have to earn the right to experience first team levels.

What can you do to retain our best young players – and what happens to those who don't make the grade?

Fans will be aware that we've lost some talented lads from our youth system – our manager Jack was one of them! And there have been more recent losses too. One of our lads has been on the bench for Villa in some big matches this season, and there are others. It's inevitable that some will be attracted by the likes of Spurs, Newcastle, Arsenal and Chelsea coming in for them, and that's often driven by the parents.

However, what we do is talk players, and their parents, through the development path we can offer, and the high-challenge, high-support environment we provide. That's not just the Academy team but Gary Sweet and senior management, too. I think that's unique – as is the level of interest and commitment our Board shows in youth development. Paul Ballantyne and David Wilkinson, for instance, attend a huge number of games at every age level: I don't know of any other club where that happens.

As for the many who don't progress to the first team, or a professional career elsewhere, young players are looked after so much better now. They're prepared for careers outside of football – knowing that over 99 per cent don't get to that level – with life skills and education training, and there's a comprehensive aftercare programme for the wellbeing of players released at scholar level, with regular check-ins from player care and safeguarding staff for three or more years.

During their time with us, players have six reviews a year, two of them being formal. That's with all departments, with six to eight staff – coaching, education, sports science, medical – talking with the individual player. I think it's very important for parents to be there, to see how much is invested in helping them achieve what they want to achieve and to get to where they want to be. Those reviews help them manage their expectations too: so, even though being released is always going to be painful, that pain is reduced by being prepared for it should it happen.

Going back to the youngest players: do they have set positions they play in as they develop?

No, at the foundation phase it's about learning to love the game and filling what we call a 'toolbox' of experience and skills as they play around the pitch in different positions. Success for us is them building that love of the game and taking it into the youth development phase – learning to experience and navigate the pitch and the game.

Under-18s boss Joe Deeney gives encouragement from the touchline

S2 Luton v Stevenage.indd 38 08/01/2026 10:45

The Under-18s celebrate

They might have a favoured position or we might see strengths in another position but that can change as they develop. Joe Johnson was a midfielder up to the Under-16 stage for instance, but then we saw his strengths on the left and converted him to a left-back. Oli Lynch was a centre-half for about 12 months but is now finding success as a centre forward. You see this at all levels and ages in the game.

How closely do you work with first team management?

I've been lucky enough to lead the Academy under three managers who take a real interest in developing young players. Rob Edwards was an academy coach himself at Wolves, Matt Bloomfield took a real interest and flew some of our academy lads out to Slovenia pre-season – what an experience for them – and from day one Jack has shown a real interest, especially given his background as a former Luton academy player, Arsenal academy player and more recently academy coach. He consults with Joe, Ronnie, Alex and myself regularly – and all the scholars. Around 80 per cent of the Under-18s and Under-21s have had time training with the first team. He's had the faith and confidence to involve youth players in first team games and squads, too. There's a real pathway open for them at Luton.

What effect will Power Court have on the Academy?

It's already having an effect – it's a fantastic incentive to attract and motivate young players. Do you want to be in that first team to step out at our fabulous new ground in front of 25,000 fans? What a thing to dream of and strive for!

> "AS A PLAYER WHO WAS AROUND IN THE CLUB'S CONFERENCE DAYS, I KNOW JUST HOW IMPORTANT SOLYD HAS BEEN HISTORICALLY.

What do SoLYD – Supporters of Luton Youth Development – bring to the academy?

SoLYD are absolutely amazing, Derek and Paul particularly. The Trust do so much for us and their funding makes a massive difference: it enables us to do things we wouldn't have been able to do otherwise. Putting money towards a pre-season team-building week away for our scholars to get together and gel, for instance. Funding flights and expenses for our Under-21s to go to Glasgow and play at Rangers. Buying us a set of dug-outs for The Brache. A hardship fund for young players who need a bit of support with kit and expenses. And now taking the lead with a shirt sponsorship initiative for the academy – that's new and I'd encourage all of you reading this to support it!

We meet regularly and, as a player who was around in the club's conference days, I know just how important SoLYD has been historically. Without it youth development would have disappeared in those dark old days when dropping out of the Football League meant the loss of all central funding. SoLYD was set up to come to the rescue and have been brilliant ever since.

Finally – a word for the supporters about how they can help our young players?

Your support at the Under-21 games at Kenilworth Road is wonderful and gives the boys a chance to experience playing in front of a crowd. That's great. And I'd also say that when they get a chance to play for the first team. Your encouragement and positivity can make a massive, massive difference. That applies to the senior players too, especially when mistakes are made – frustration is totally understandable but getting behind them can only build confidence back and up.

I know from playing as an opposition player at Kenilworth Road what an intimidating place it can be – and as a Luton player what an inspiration our fans can be too. We're all part of the team.

As my old manager John Still famously said, the stronger the team, the stronger the team!

We're certainly with you on that Paul – and thanks for sharing such brilliant insights with us. COYH!

Wearing HISTORY

2020/21 THIRD

Today we feature a shirt that, chances are, you never actually saw us wear in person. That is because today's shirt is the 2020/21 third shirt that was worn during the lockdown Championship season.

Produced by Umbro, this shirt featured two different shades of blue, white and a bit of orange! All the traditional Luton colours in one shirt. The main theme of the shirt was the dark blue body and the lighter blue across the shoulders and down the sides of both arms.

Throw in the white and orange lines across both collar bones and the orange Ryebridge sponsor and you hit all the Luton Town colour combinations! All it's missing is that purple and pink from our original shirt.

Due to the kit clashes with other teams, this shirt had to wait until 4th November 2020, away at Rotherham for its debut. It got off to a winning start, too, thanks to a typical James Collins goal which earned a 1-0 victory.

A month later, away at Swansea, was this shirt's next outing. Sadly, this time it was a 2-0 loss for the Hatters, despite a positive performance. A few days later, it got its next appearance (bit like buses, it waited ages for its debut then multiple came in a short period of time!) in the 0-0 draw away at Coventry.

Further outings away at Brentford, Stoke, Norwich and Derby saw the total number of appearances for this shirt finish at seven which isn't a bad return for a third shirt!

Whenever I look at this shirt in my collection, I'm always reminded of Kazenga LuaLua, Matty Pearson, Harry Cornick and Kiernan Dewsbury-Hall. It brings back those memories of watching games on iPlayer!

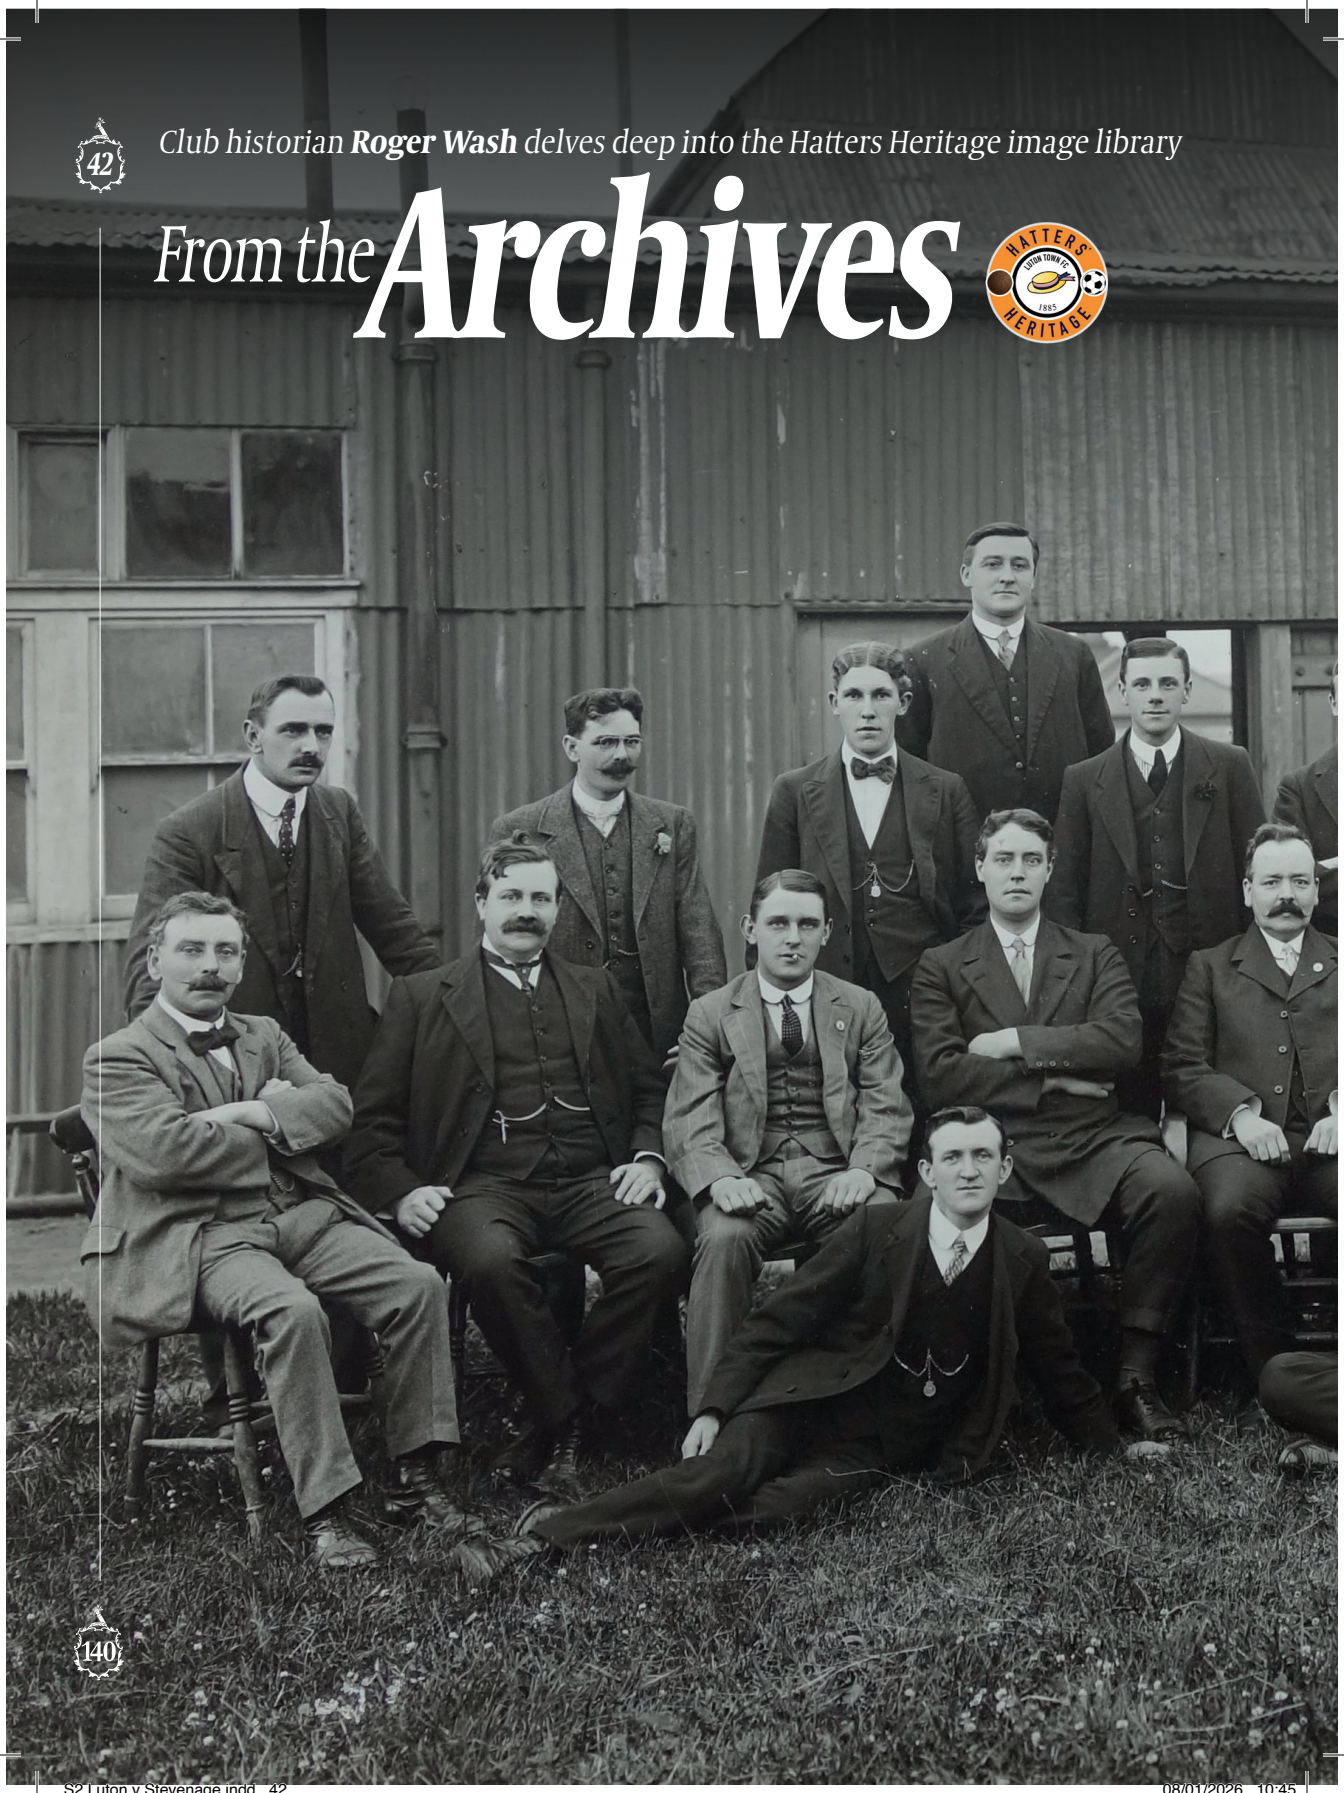

It's a shirt that you may own but would never have seen being played in live!

We look back on some of the most iconic matches played on this day in our history

ON THIS DAY

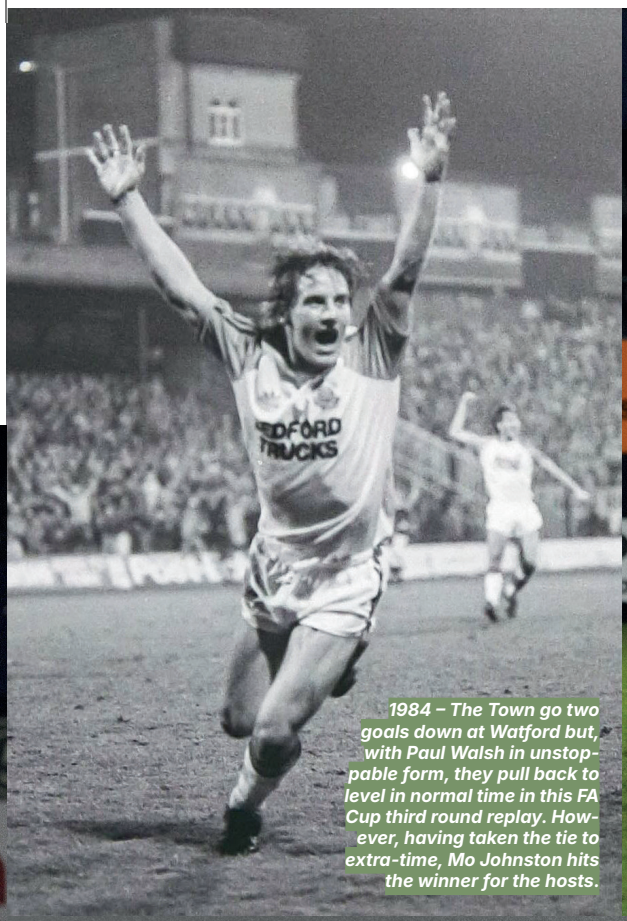

10th January

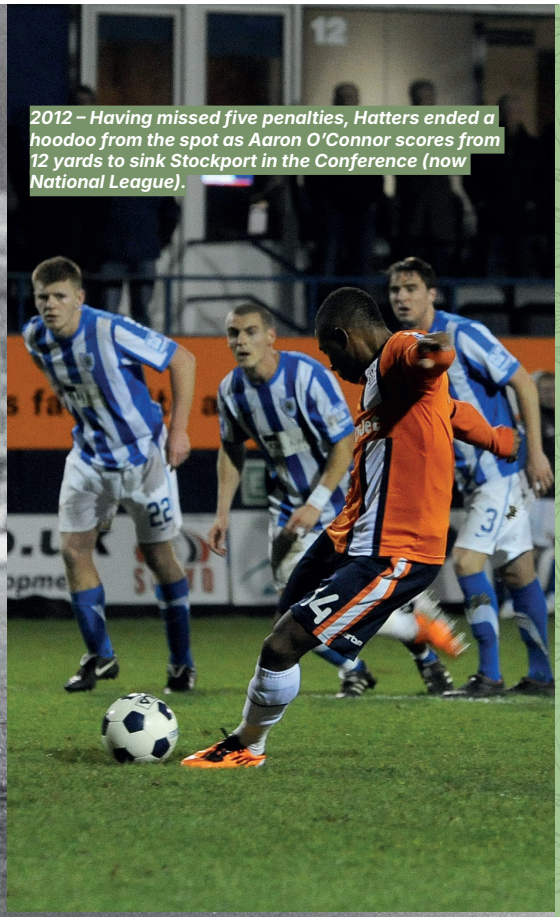

2017 – Two goals from Jack Marriott, a penalty from Craig Mackail-Smith and another from Isaac Vassell help the Hatters to a 4-0 EFL Trophy win over Chesterfield.

1953 – The Hatters thrash Blackburn 6-1 at Kenilworth Road in an FA Cup third round tie with Jesse Pye scoring a hat-trick to send the Town through to round four.

1984 – The Town go two goals down at Watford but, with Paul Walsh in unstoppable form, they pull back to level in normal time in this FA Cup third round replay. However, having taken the tie to extra-time, Mo Johnston hits the winner for the hosts.

2012 – Having missed five penalties, Hatters ended a hoodoo from the spot as Aaron O'Connor scores from 12 yards to sink Stockport in the Conference (now National League).

1978 – The Town secure an FA Cup replay win at Oldham with Phil Boersma on target twice. His first strike squeezes past the goalkeeper who claims the ball is punctured but the referee refuses to disallow the goal. The Latics equalise but Godfrey Ingram sets up the winner for Boersma.

On the rampage in the 7-1 win against Charlton in 1977

As we celebrate 140 years of football, Hatters Heritage's Will Foster looks back at some of the people who form part of our rich history with a story to tell.

TOP HATTERS

Jimmy Husband

Throughout the 1970s only four players scored 40 or more goals for the Hatters.

At the top of a list that features Peter Anderson (40), Ron Futcher (43) and Malcolm MacDonald (43) there sits Jimmy Husband (48), Harry Haslam's final piece in the jigsaw in that side that won promotion to the top flight in 1974.

Not that it was an easy beginning to life at Luton for Husband, who arrived for £80,000 from Everton and of whom big things were expected from the start. By his own admission he'd added to the problem by gaining half a stone as he stayed in hotels while looking to buy a house, but there were other factors at play too.

With the transfer being completed in November it wasn't easy for Husband to sell his house, meaning a regular commute down the M6 at a time of a petrol shortage, a 50mph speed limit and a train dispute. "In terms of home life the move couldn't have come at a worse time for me," he said in an interview shortly after signing. "It's been a real drag having to dash around the country and no father wants to be away from his family for long periods."

Jimmy would find some familiar faces at Kenilworth Road, however, including Bobby Thomson who he'd played with in the England Under-23s. He also found the approachable Harry Haslam to be a breath of fresh air in comparison to the 'God-like' and distant Harry Catterick at Everton. Still the forward remained goalless in his first 12 games for his new club, before finally heading home a John Aston corner in a defeat at Fulham in March.

Then, two weeks later, he'd finally start to win over those fans doubting the Town's new big money signing. In front of a season high crowd of 17,045 at Kenilworth Road, he and Barry Butlin terrorised the Orient defence, with Husband securing a hat-trick in a 3-1 win by heading in John Ryan's corner with 10 minutes to go. The win moved the Hatters four points clear of the visitors and the top two spot wasn't relinquished from that point, with promotion the following month.

S2 Luton v Stevenage.indd 46 08/01/2026 10:45

Jimmy Husband was born in Newcastle in 1947 and grew up as a fan of the Magpies. Seen as a precocious talent in his teens he attracted the interest of almost every top-flight club but it was Toffees' scout Harry Cooke who was the most persuasive, leading Husband to sign at Goodison Park while still a teenager. He would win the 1965 FA Youth Cup soon after, while also making his first team debut towards the end of that season.

A fast and skilful forward, Husband was mostly used as a winger during his time on Merseyside, during which he'd play in the 1968 FA Cup Final and make 30 starts in Everton's title-winning side of 1970. That would prove to be the high watermark of his years at the club though, and by the winter of 1973, now playing mostly in the reserves, he was attracting the interest of a host of managers, including Malcolm Allison at Crystal Palace, before Harry Haslam won the race for his signature.

Now back in the top flight with his new club Husband, like many of the Luton team, found it tough going. He managed only three goals in a season where the Hatters were narrowly relegated, though a win at home over his former club Everton during the battle to stay up would surely have been sweet.

Arguably his best spell came in the next two campaigns, during which his goals helped the club stabilise back in the Second Division during a time of financial uncertainty. In all he would score 27 times over the next two seasons and be almost ever present during very reasonable seventh and sixth place finishes.

Jimmy taking on Chelsea's Ron Harris in 1975

A game against Charlton in September 1977 would give Jimmy perhaps his best day in a Luton shirt. On a barnstorming afternoon at Kenilworth Road he'd score four times in a remarkable 7-1 win, the first time the Hatters had scored that many since an identical score against the 'Bank of England' Sunderland side in 1958. Husband was the first to notch four since John O'Rourke in 1964, and only Steve White has done it since, in 1981.

His time at the club was coming to an end however, and with David Pleat looking to refresh the team, Husband was given the opportunity to join the raft of English players moving to play in the USA, spending time with the Memphis Rogues and Cleveland Force.

When he did return to the UK he did so to Bedfordshire, and would run the Chequers Inn in Roxton for a spell before working in sales until retirement.

A lover of rock music, fine food (he noted Oysters as his favourite food in an interview) and fast cars, Husband wasn't perhaps the archetypal 70s footballer.

He was a guest for the 2005 centenary celebrations at Kenilworth Road in 2005 by which point the 70s perm was gone, but not the love for the club that gave him a second career in football.

Sadly Jimmy passed away in 2024, leaving his wife Val and children Jamie and Jilly.

With Ronnie Henry
Professional Development Phase Assistant Coach

Zach Ionnides made his senior debut last month in the EFL Trophy tie against Exeter

Good afternoon and welcome to Kenilworth Road for today's match against Stevenage.

I'd like to start by wishing everyone a happy and successful new year, let's make it a memorable one. Whether you're joining us regularly or visiting for the first time, the players and staff truly appreciate you're backing.

Matchdays like this are what football is all about. Trust me these games are the best as I'm sure you are all aware I've been in both camps. we're looking forward to another competitive and entertaining game.

Today's fixture promises to be an exciting contest as we take on Stevenage. Both sides will be eager to impose themselves early, and with points at a premium at this stage of the season, commitment and discipline will be key. We'll be looking to build on recent performances and make the most of home advantage. Luton versus Stevenage is a proper match, the kind where form goes out the window the moment the whistle blows. League position, recent results, momentum... none of it really matters once these two clubs meet. It's about pride, proximity, and proving a point.

There's always an edge to it. Tackles are a bit sharper, the crowd a bit louder, and every decision feels like it carries extra weight. Stevenage never turn up just to make the numbers up, and Luton know they'll be tested every inch of the way. It's rarely pretty, often frantic and usually decided by moments rather than patterns of play.

You don't watch this fixture expecting a polished exhibition — you watch it because it's raw, combative and unpredictable. A proper football match, exactly the way rivalries should be they are the best games I've been involved in during my career.

I joined the academy as PDP assistant just over a year ago and I have really enjoyed the challenge of helping our young players improve and get closer to our first team. We have had five players make the jump and made first team debuts in the last 12 months. This is fantastic for the players and staff to see the progression and the hard work everyone puts in come to blossom. We know we still have a lot of work to do and the aim is to get them into the first team squad on a regular basis.

In recent weeks, both the Under-18s and Under-21s have produced a series of positive results, reflecting the strong work being done across the development pathway. Performances have been consistent, with players showing improved understanding, intensity, and maturity in competitive environments.

As a result, like I've said, several individuals are now getting closer to first team involvement, with progress evident in their physical readiness, tactical awareness and overall confidence. This momentum highlights the effectiveness of the pathway and reinforces the link between academy and first team progression. We hope you have enjoyed seeing our young players perform, let's hope it's just a start for them.

So, let's go. Your support can make the difference. Let's get behind Jack and the team, make some noise, and enjoy the game. Let's push them like I know you can. Your support is greatly appreciated and makes a huge difference. There's no better feeling when you raise the roof at Kenilworth Road. Let's make sure we get the three points.

Enjoy the game COYH!

GAWEL SECURES DRAW WITH WONDER GOAL

Dawid Gawel netted an incredible last-minute equaliser for the Hatters Under-18s to earn a point in an enthralling 3-3 draw against Stevenage at The Brache last week.

Dawid Gawel: On target again

First half goals from Samuel Hincapie-Alfonso and Rufus Barnes had given Town a 2-1 lead at half-time despite it being a scrappy game for both sides, though Stevenage fought back in the second half to lead 3-2 prior to Gawel's late leveller.

As the minutes drifted away in the second half, it seemed increasingly likely that the Town would be condemned to their third successive league defeat.

That changed, however, when a corner in the final minute of normal time allowed Barnes to turn provider, his brilliant header across goal from the back post managing to find Gawel, who finished brilliantly with improvised technique on the half-volley to find the top corner and secure a point for the Hatters.

Town: Flynn, Roberts-Edema (sub Ed-Okungbowa 72), Barnes, Kwame Anson, Evans, Isufi, El Gourja (sub Frimpong-Kwakye 83), Asamoah Junior, Shepherd (sub Passley-James 83), Hincapie-Alfonso (sub Takawira 83), Gawel.

COMMUNITY TRUST

Community at the Heart of the Season

Firstly, a very happy New Year on behalf of the Community Trust. While many organisations slowed down over the festive period, our team remained extremely active, delivering a wide range of activities, tournaments and community events supporting local young people and families at a time when connection and support matter most.

In the true spirit of giving, the festive period also saw us partner with the club's 2024/25 PFA Community Champion, Jacob Brown, who very generously donated several pairs of brand-new football boots to support children and young people most in need across our local communities.

Access to appropriate sports equipment remains a significant barrier for many families, and this donation enabled us to remove that barrier for young people who otherwise may not have been able to participate.

One of the first beneficiaries of the boots donation was Stopsley Primary School, where pupils were delighted to receive their new equipment. The impact was immediate and visible. Assistant headteacher Jarad Dymock shared that the young students who benefited were "completely made up and buzzing," with many having never owned a pair of football boots or any sports equipment before. For these pupils, the donation has not only enabled them to take part in football clubs and physical activity but has also played an important role in boosting confidence, inclusion and self-belief.

S2 Luton v Stevenage.indd 52 08/01/2026 10:45

This donation also coincided with the launch of a new year-long partnership with Stopsley Primary School. Through this collaboration, the Trust will work closely with staff and pupils to improve participation levels, school attendance, confidence and overall wellbeing, using sport and physical activity as a powerful engagement tool.

Wigmore Primary School pupils were also recipients of the surprise boots donation. The reaction from students was one of genuine shock and excitement, as they were able to immediately put their new boots to use during weekly sessions delivered by Community Trust coaches. These moments of joy reinforce the importance of our work and highlight how small interventions can make a significant difference to young people's motivation and enthusiasm.

Although local schools closed as Christmas approached, our commitment to supporting the wider community continued. On Christmas Eve, our team made a final stop at Chiltern Academy, where doors were opened to support families during the festive period. Working alongside Luton Foodbank and several partner organisations, the Trust contributed to the distribution of more than 2,000 presents, ensuring that young people across our community felt seen, valued and celebrated at Christmas.

> "YOUNG STUDENTS WHO BENEFITED WERE 'COMPLETELY MADE UP AND BUZZING,' WITH MANY HAVING NEVER OWNED A PAIR OF FOOTBALL BOOTS OR ANY SPORTS EQUIPMENT BEFORE.

Local Football Manager for Luton Allstars, Francis Edubatey, who delivers regular grassroots football opportunities for young people of all ages, also received a number of donated boots. This support will help ensure that inclusive, safe and positive sporting opportunities can continue locally, enabling young people to thrive in happy and supportive environments.

On the day, our team didn't only donate football boots, equipment and sticker albums. They also rolled up their sleeves to support in the kitchens, helping to prepare and serve over 1,000 meals for those in need.

From practical support to last-minute problem solving, the team turned what could have been a challenging day into a Christmas miracle for hundreds of local families.

Ladies host AFC Sudbury tomorrow

A frozen pitch at Barton postponed the Town Ladies' scheduled 2026 opener against Cambridge United last Sunday, so it will be second time lucky for the Town, who will now begin the year at home to relegation-threatened AFC Sudbury tomorrow.

The Development Squad's game went ahead last week, allowing first-team players Andie Dickens, Amber Leighton, Nia Bowman and Kiyana Fryer to pick up their first minutes of the year.

Dickens, Leighton and Bowman all found the back of the net in a 3-1 win against London Academicals for the Hatters.

The opposition

AFC Sudbury earned promotion to the Women's National League during the 2022/23 season after topping the ERWFL Premier Division table, finishing four points ahead of the Hatters and have stayed in the fourth tier ever since.

However, this season threatens to see them return to the fifth tier, with the Suffolk side sitting second from bottom and four points away from safety.

The Suds have only won one of their 11 league fixtures this campaign, but do head into Sunday undefeated in back-to-back league games for the first time this season after a 1-1 draw against Milton Keynes and, most recently, a 0-0 draw against London Bees.

Back our Ladies at Barton

Our Ladies netted a remarkable 95 goals across 38 games in 2025 and suffered just two defeats at home all year. As they look to begin 2026 on a positive note, they need you to be there and cheer them on.

Kick-off at Barton Rovers' Sharpenhoe Road ground is at 2pm, with tickets available on the day. Payment is via cash only at the turnstiles, priced at £5 adults and just £1 children.

LEAGUE LOOK

AROUND THE GROUNDS IN THE THIRD TIER

Last Saturday saw a lot of games across the third tier postponed due to weather, including our fixture away to Doncaster, so let's track back a few days before to New Year's Day which saw a full round of fixtures.

AFC Wimbledon beat their London rivals Leyton Orient 3-1 in an important victory for the Dons. Johnnie Jackson's side came from behind to earn all three points.

Lincoln and Huddersfield played out at 1-1 draw at Sincil Bank, Leo Castledine continued his fine form and put Huddersfield in front, but Lincoln responded with an Adam Reach goal just eight minutes later.

Bradford suffered a heavy defeat on the road, losing 3-0 to Mansfield Town on a bad day at the office for the Bantams. Stockport also dropped points away at Northampton, drawing 0-0 with the Cobblers.

Doncaster and Bolton drew 1-1 in Yorkshire in what was a tightly contested match and Plymouth grabbed a point away at our visitors today, Stevenage, also drawing 1-1.

Reading continued their good run with a routine 2-0 home victory over Burton and Peterborough also continued their strong form with an away win against Rotherham.

As we know, the Town went down to a 1-0 defeat at Exeter, while the spoils were shared between Wigan and Barnsley who drew 1-1 after an Adam Phillips equalizer for Barnsley. Cardiff also dropped points as they drew with Wycombe at Adams Park.

Port Vale recorded a statement victory over 10-man Blackpool, winning 5-1 at Vale Park. After going 1-0 down, a Blackpool red card changed the game and the Valiants scored five times in the second half to earn a rare victory.

In the pick of today's games, Stockport host Huddersfield while leaders Cardiff head to Leyton Orient.

Adam Reach scored for Lincoln against Huddersfield in their 1-1 draw

Hatters Heritage's Roger Wash looks back on some of our finest ever campaigns

SEASONS TO REMEMBER 1969/70

After missing out on promotion from Division Three (now League One) in 1968/69 by a whisker, the Town hoped to go one better in the new campaign.

They would have to do it without golden boy Bruce Rioch though after he was sold to Aston Villa for £100,000 which was then a record for the division.

The money was wisely spent by manager Alec Stock with full-backs John Ryan and Malcolm Macdonald arriving from Fulham and forward John Collins from Reading.

After biding his time, Stock struck again early in the season and brought in striker Matt Tees from Charlton and centre-half Chris Nicholl from Halifax.

With Macdonald now pushed up front and forming a lethal partnership with Tees, the Hatters went on a 13-game unbeaten run as they took the division by storm.

Four straight defeats over Christmas took the wind out of their sails a bit and although wins started arriving again, the team could never quite regain its early season form.

Showing resilience though the Town refused to give in to the doubters and came back from inexplicable defeats to pull off valiant wins – none more so than when emerging victorious with 1-0 victories at promotion challengers Reading and Fulham.

On the evening of the FA Cup final the Town thrashed Walsall 3-0 at Kenilworth Road and followed it up with a nail-biting 1-0 home victory over Southport.

When it was learnt that strugglers Gillingham, who had beaten all the top sides away, had won at Bristol Rovers the supporters realised that one point from the final two games would secure promotion.

The single point was duly won at Mansfield in a turgid 0-0 draw leaving the final game – a 2-1 win at Rochdale – the icing on the cake.

Player focus

Skipper Mike Keen led by example and dragged the team to promotion. Only now can supporters realise what a clever player he was as they didn't fully appreciate him at the time!

Season standout

It was £17,500 well spent as Malcolm Macdonald rewarded the Luton coaching staff, who converted him from a full-back to goalscoring hero, with 25 goals. What a player!
