Message from the Supporters Club Chairperson

Dear Supporter,

Welcome to the first newsletter of our second season as a supporters club. Many thanks to all those who turned up for our first AGM in July and who showed their confidence in us as a committee by re-electing us back into office.

We did have to say a very big thankyou & goodbye to Jackie our secretary and her husband Peter who decided not to stand for the committee this year as Jackie has given birth to a beautiful daughter and they didn't feel they could devote so much of their time to the Supporters Club.

Congratulations must go to Brian Cole the Football Clubs' new Chairman who I know is very pleased with the direction in which the supporters club is going and has offered his help & support to us.

The close season has seen a few other changes behind the scenes with the new position of Mr Bill Tomlins as the new chief executive taking over from Mr John Smith who held that position for many years. Last but not least we congratulate Danny Wilson on becoming our new Football Club captain who I'm sure will come along to one of our meetings in the near future.

Welcome to all staff who have joined the Football Club whether it be in a playing capacity or behind the scenes, we hope your time at Luton is a very happy one.

We are very pleased with the amount of new members joining the supporters club and thanks must go to the ticket office staff who very kindly put one of our membership forms in all their outgoing mail.

We intend to move forward this season with a wider variety of social get togethers and other activities. At present we are looking into the possibility of starting a couple of football teams one junior & one senior, if you are interested please give our committee member Tom Shanley a ring on Luton 863992 evenings only, who has taken on the role as football coach.

After each first team home match you will have the chance to meet two committee members in the Stewards room behind the main stand where they will be selling tickets for forthcoming events and taking renewals and new memberships or just there for a chat, so rather than just leave after a match pop along for a visit.

I am very pleased to be able to tell you we've got our own space in this season's programme so you'll be able to keep up to date with information on events etc.

Don't forget to make yourself heard when watching the Town on a Saturday afternoon.

Yours in Sport.

Pam Gray, LTSC Chairperson.

... So get writing now!

QUIZ EVENING

For our first social function of the new season we decided to hold a quiz evening which had been recommended and arranged by one of our committee members through Barber Sporting Enterprises. With it taking place so soon from the start of the season, unfortunately the event wasn't very well attended. Anyway, those who were there, enjoyed themselves thoroughly. With all participants splitting up into teams of four, a lot of tactical play become evident by certain members, letting other teams hear their answers verbally (which were wrong to fool others seating near by) rather than writing them down.

At the close of the evening, trophies were presented to the outright winning team consisting of Richard Hedges, John Pyper, Lawrence Grumit and, last but not least, Mike Forsyth, with the runners-up also receiving trophies.

Eddie Barber, Quizmaster, of Barber Sporting Enterprises, expressed his thanks for being asked to arrange the evening, and in return, we thanked him for a totally enjoyable evening, and hope to arrange another in the near future.*

*Which at the time of going to press has been arranged for the 12th December 1989. SEE YOUR LUTON TOWN PROGRAMME, LUTON NEWS or our next edition of the LTSC NEWSLETTER (due out mid-November) for further details.

ON TOUR WITH THE HATTERS IN THE EMERALD ISLE

By John Pyper

Having always wanted to visit Ireland, and being a fanatical Luton Town F.C. supporter, when the news that the Hatters were to go on tour for six days to this lovely country I could not turn down the opportunity of combining the two together for a weeks holiday.

So, myself and three just as fanatical supporters, flew out the same day (27th July) as the Luton Team from the Luton International Airport to Dublin. The Hatters had arranged two games over there versus Shamrock Rovers (Premier Division Team) on the 28th July and the other versus Bray Wanderers (First Division Team) on the 31st July.

Arriving in Dublin early evening we decided to venture out from our Hotel in the centre of Dublin, to look for the teams headquarters, which we had been told was based 10-15 mins. walk away. Having had no joy in finding it we went off for a bite to eat, and later in one of the many hundreds of bars in Dublin, we had a Guinness or two with some of the locals, and were shocked to find that we four English lads had walked through one of the worst parts of North Dublin, whilst looking for the LTFC headquarters, and the locals are not the friendliest of people towards the English in those parts.

The following evening we found the opposite at Dalymount Park, as the Shamrock Rovers fans welcomed us and the four other Luton Town supporters, who had also made the trip, in open arms. After the match in their supporters Club bar they were all pleased that they had seen a better game even though they had lost, than some had seen at the same ground where Tottenham Hotspur had played Bohemians F.C. 0-0 six days earlier in a 10,000+ crowd.

Before moving onto Bray for the last match on Monday evening, we had time to fit in two further games involving English League Teams — Shelbourne v West Brom — Saturday 29th July, and back to Dalymount Park on Sunday evening for the Shamrock Rovers v Huddersfield Town with the ex-Aston Villa striker, Peter Withe, coming on later in the game.

Prior to the Huddersfield match, though we had a great time at the Gaelic Football match (Co. Dublin v Co. Meath). The locals told us that if you wanted to see something totally different from the every day soccer match in this country, then visit a Gaelic Football Match, and sure they were right! With the local team County Dublin beating County Meath in the final of the Leinster Cup by 2-12 to 1-11, which in points after referring to the rule book was 18pts to 14pts. With a crowd of just under 57,000 crowded into Croke Park, Dublin the atmosphere was electric, with the lead changing hands twice with five minutes to go from the final whistle. Dublin qualified for the Semi-final of the All-Ireland Gaelic Final.

▲ Peter Withe with three of the Players in the Bray Hotel Bar.

On Monday we made our way south to the seaside resort of Bray (12 miles south of Dublin), which is the largest resort on the east coast of Ireland. Considering that it was their peak season the seafront was very quiet. Speaking to the locals the resort had lost its appeal, due to the age of the continental cheap package tour and the ease in which people venture further afield from Dublin for their holidays.

With the small Bray Wanderers' Carlisle ground not having floodlights, kick-off time was at 7.00 pm, so we had time to visit the ground which was a stone's throw from the seafront (one large clearance from the pitch and the ball may have landed in the sea!). Whilst at the ground there was plenty of pre-match preparation going on with the groundsman putting his last minute touches to the pitch, which had not been watered for many weeks due to the lack of rain and the ban on hoses. This part of Ireland had not seen rain since mid-June so they got in the local armed forces to water it. We also met the Bray Wanderers Chairman, who knew straight away that we were Luton Town fans, and shook our hands as he was overjoyed at the visit of the first English First Division team to Bray. And he invited us to come along to the after match reception, being held in Luton Town FC's honour at the main hotel in Bray.

After the match in which Luton won by a whisker 1-0 in front of a crowd of 1,200 (approx) I collected a few autographs of both teams, plus many souvenirs of our visit before going on to the reception, where the players had their after match meal with drinks in the bar, where we were able to have a chat with some of them.

After the Luton Town players had left we stayed on until closing, which in Ireland varies from 11.00 to 12.30, and had a talk with officials from Bray W. F.C. with the main subject being the 'Plastic pitch' and the away fans ban.

Thinking that the football had finished until we return on Friday to go on to Notts County on Saturday, we were wrong as we were persuaded to go back up to see a rearranged Shamrock Rovers match versus Brighton & HA. at Dalymount Park on Thursday 3rd August. In between time, we did have time to visit a lot of the lovely countryside before returning to Luton on Friday.

My overall opinion of the tour and holiday was, I can't wait for Luton Town to return there next season and experience the wonderful welcome again from those lovely Irish football supporters and to visit those other bars we didn't get to!

FROM OUR FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT

When asked by Pam Gray if I would like to deal with the Supporters Club mail coming in from overseas, I had a vision of being about as busy as a deck chair attendant in Skegness in January! How wrong I was.

Letters have come in quite steadily, and to date we heard from Hatters Fans in 10 different countries including Bulgaria, Iraq, Poland and Nigeria to name but four.

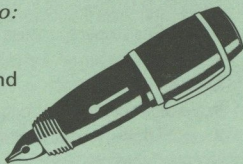

The most interesting letter to date, however, came from Juhani Leppanen in Turku, Finland, who wrote to tell us of the L.T.F.C. Supporters Club in Finland, which currently boasts a membership of 50, no less. Juhani goes on to say how they produce a joint newsletter with Watford and Ipswich fans. The title is of course WILU! The Committee are presently looking at appointing Juhani and Co. as our official Finnish Branch.

This summer I was lucky enough to visit Barbados on holiday and during my stay got into a lively discussion with a local security guard about cricket. As the conversation came to an end I was asked if I went to Football in England. I said that I did and that I followed a team called Luton Town. The reaction was amazing, here was I expecting the poor innocent to say "who?" when instead he began to list all the players, one by one! When I then produced the Club's Cup History Book, the response was even more incredible. A new friendship was firmly established plus I had recruited our first member in Barbados. Even my wife was impressed!

WHERE ARE THEY NOW? by Brian Swain

WHEN YOU ARE asked to write a series under the umbrella name of the headline above, article number one poses an immediate problem: who to start with out of so many I have watched and admired in my years of following the Town?

I make no apology for choosing a man most of you know is still knocking around Luton, and still playing football at 37: Alan West, bought for the then huge sum and club record fee of £100,000 in the autumn of 1973 to complete the side Harry Haslam was building to win promotion at the end of that season.

And he came to Kenilworth Road because he could touch his toes! The signing was a surprise to football. Three weeks earlier FA Cup holders Sunderland had persuaded Burnley to part with their young midfield star. But at Roker Park his world was shattered when he failed a medical, because of a back problem.

"That was very difficult", he recalls. "I had been up there three days, was delighted at the move, and then everything was turned upside down. The specialist gave the impression I would be in a wheelchair within a couple of weeks.

"Thankfully I am still playing football 16 years later, and while I have an irregularity in my back it has never been a problem. I was disillusioned when I went back to Burnley from Sunderland, but when I look back now I know it was what many would call fate that was ensuring everything turned out for the best. If I had gone to Sunderland I would not have had the happiness and contentment I found at Luton.

"Harry Haslam came in for me three weeks later. Luton knew about the so-called back problem. Harry and Doc Burrows completed all the usual fitness checks, and the doc said: 'Let me see you bend down and touch your toes.' I did. 'You're fit!' he said. And I think I proved him right."

Westie, a right-footer who made the left side of midfield tick, went on to play for the Town for eight years, most of them as skipper. He went on to Millwall after 272 league games for us, and was then a successful player-manager at Hitchin for four years. Baldock was the next stop, for two seasons, and Vauxhall Motors are the latest to harness his instinctive touch and vision.

Alan is a northerner, and still proud of it. He was born in Hyde and started his football career in Burnley. His girl-friend there was Cathy, Lancastrian through and through. They married 15 years ago, and moved into a house at Limbury which is still their home.

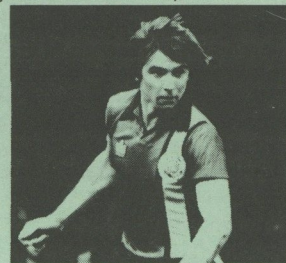

But they are changed people from the youngsters I first knew. They became committed Christians, and that is now the major part of their life. Alan is a church minister, and has become a kind of Lutonian by adoption.

"We didn't have any roots in Luton when we got here", he recalled. "I didn't even know where it was until I got here — I just knew it was down South, where they talked a bit funny.

"But I really enjoyed playing for Luton. I had chances to leave, but I was enjoying my football too much to go anywhere else. Then, because of my involvement in the church I started to build up a big circle of friends, and now we have hundreds here in Luton. This is our home — we're committed to the place and love it. And our two boys talk a bit funny too!"

Ben, 11, and seven-year-old Josh might not appreciate until they are older just how lucky they have been in having a Mum and Dad like theirs. And yes, if they show promise, Dad will cheerfully encourage them to try to be professional footballers. I'd love to be around when someone comes to write a "Where are they now?"

column about those two!

Alan West during his playing days with Luton.

LETTER SECTION

'LAYING THE FOUNDATIONS'

Dear Supporters Club,

Many football clubs lose their roots sometimes when success comes their way. That's one reason I was pleased with the formation of the Luton Town Supporters Club. This enables both the supporters and the club to be continually aware of one another's feelings towards events on the playing side and "off-the-field". The close liaison with other clubs' supporters is also important and we all have to adapt a mature attitude toward followers of rival teams — especially on match days. It's easy to sit back in a public house lounge discussing Soccer with other fans from different clubs, but much, much harder to sit or stand "side by side" on the terraces watching the two chosen clubs "do battle" against one another. As football supporters we must not see the game with "blinkers on", we have to acknowledge all the good things we see in other teams' play and club organisation. It is no good for us to "slate-off" the opposition just because their side are on form and our team are having an "off-day".

When we lost the Littlewoods Cup Final last season to Notts Forest I was most impressed with the "Hatters" fans' attitude. We all took defeat in the right manner — very disappointed for our club and ourselves, but pleased for the opposition.

At Luton the foundation of the supporters club is laid down by hard working, fully involved individuals who spend a lot of their spare time for the love of the game. Other supporters clubs too have their cornerstones to build around. 15 miles from where I live at Millmoor, Rotherham, a gentleman named Deek Dalton runs the Millers Supporters Club, without even being able to sit upright. Because of a crippling disease he cannot watch his beloved team play from a standing or sitting position, but has to lie down to see his side do battle with the opposition!

To me that is devotion to the club. Outside the area there are loyal Luton supporters too. Take Keith Brookbanks of Devonshire Road in Liverpool for instance. Ever since the early 1980's, Keith and his scouser mate Dave, have followed Luton Town F.C. They were born and bred on Merseyside (well, it once was Lancashire), and follows Luton Town almost everywhere.

For instance they were there at Notts County for a pre-season game, at Oxford too, and obviously couldn't miss the home game against the team he loves to hate, Liverpool, the other week. What makes Mr. Brookbanks even more of a "character" is his knowledge of Non-league Football. He often goes to watch teams like South Liverpool or Southport play when the Town are not in action, and when I told him Luton Town reserves were playing Berkhamsted Town in a pre-season friendly, he even knew which league they played in! When Eaton Bray United folded and were expelled from the South Midlands League a couple of seasons ago, Keith even told me he knew that the reason was due to the playing field belonging to the village, and not to the football club. How he gets to know these things I'll never know!

I like to think I'm a dedicated supporter too, but being a married man with four young children it does have its drawbacks, making it difficult to follow the "Hatters" from such a distance.

My wife doesn't particularly like football, although my eldest children Lisa (11 years of age) and Mark, 10, do enjoy going to matches. They were certainly thrilled last season with Luton's two nil victory against Everton at Goodison Park. Families where mum, dad, gran, grandad and all the kids follow the same team have an advantage over those who don't, as they can all "chip-in" on the travelling expenses, etc.

Last season I was forced to see most Town games by "hitching" lifts on the motorways, although when we played Newcastle United last April, the Bobbers Travel Club were kind enough to give me a lift back to Sheffield on their coach. Generally speaking "thumbing a lift" has been a cheap and efficient way for me getting to see the Hatters play. When we "saved-ourskins" in that dramatic last game against Norwich City back in May, a Luton fan from Harrogate in Yorkshire gave me a lift back within 10 minutes of waiting by the M1 slip road (Junction 11) off Dunstable Road. You meet a great many supporters of other clubs too when you're hitch-hiking, and although there is an element of risk involved, I've had many an interesting journey talking soccer with various fans.

I hope I shall be able to see the majority of games the town play this season, and although this is the first year I've not renewed my season ticket, I can assure you I'll do my utmost to get to see the first team games. When I cannot be there you can bet your life I'll have my "trannie" with me and Radio 2 better have a reporter at Kenilworth Road, otherwise I'll pull what's left of my hair out strand by strand!!

Hope to be at Highfield Road, Coventry the following week though, and I'm sure by then "The Hatters" will be nearer the top of the Division.

Many Thanks
